Local Scout Instrumental In Acquisition of New "Hamlet of Beavercreek" Signs

Theodore Lindsey, a resident of Beavercreek and a member of Scout Troop 139, thought it would be a great idea to have a sign made announcing that you have entered the Hamlet of Beavercreek. He thought this would be a good Eagle Scout Project.

He came to a Hamlet Community meeting and shared his ideas with the members. Everyone present was very supportive and that is how the welcome sign project began.

Fund raising was started and many ideas were discussed, but due to County Signage rules it was decided to have them make the signs to comply with the ordinance and place them at four locations as you come into the Hamlet.

This picture was taken earlier this year when the first sign was placed across from the Oregon City Golf Club. Another one was placed on S. Beavercreek Rd., near Lower Highland, another is located on Henrici Rd. The fourth has not been placed due to issues with ODOT along Hwy 213. It should be resolved shortly.

Thank you Theodore and all those involved in this endeavor. Thank you for your interest and diligence.

The community appreciates you very much. The Editor

Working Smoke Alarm Alerts Occupant During Rural Home Fire

A single female occupant at a large two story residence in rural Oregon City was alerted by her working upstairs smoke alarm during the breakfast hours on Wednesday morning. The structure fire at 20209 S. Henrici Rd was dispatched by 911 operators through a helpful neighbor who used a land line to contact rescuers as cell coverage proved ineffective. Crews from Clackamas Fire District #1 responded a first alarm assignment to the address and extinguished the stubborn fire using two 3000 gallon water tenders to shuttle the much needed water to the occupancy. Firefighters were welcomed to the involved house 2008, requires retailers to sell only fire-safer cigarettes. Since then, retailers in violation of the law have received warnings from the OSFM and given the choice of disposing of the illegal cigarettes or have them confiscated. On March 1st the warnings will end and civil penalties will begin.

"We're still seeing retailers with non-compliant cigarettes on their shelves," says OSFM License and Permit Manager Anita Phillips. "They've had plenty of time to remove these illegal cigarettes from their shelves and dispose of them or return them to their distributor."

Governor Kulongoski signed the law in April 2007. Retailers had eight months, until December 31, 2007, to eliminate their current stock of non-fire safe cigarettes.

To reduce financial impact to distributors, the Department of Revenue is allowing tobacco tax refunds for distributors receiving returns of non-compliant cigarettes from retailers.

Fire-safer cigarettes, officially referred to as reduced ignition propensity or low ignition propensity cigarettes, are identified with the following markings near the universal product code (UPC):

The marking FSC (the most common marking)

A heavy black line above the UPC

The letters FS, RIP or LIP near the UPC

A diamond symbol or forward slash mark near the universal product code

Retailers may only sell cigarettes identified with a fire-safer marking located near the universal product code or on the cellophane wrapping on the pack or carton. Violators may be fined up to five times the retail value of the cigarettes involved or $1,000, whichever is greater.

More information on fire-safer cigarettes is available at: http://www.oregon.gov/OSP/SFM/Safer_Cigarette_Program.shtml.

Library Corner

Did you know that we are promoting 2 reading programs through the library and we just finished up READQUEST? There is something for everyone to participate in, regardless of their reading level.

Accelerated Reader: We had several thousand titles that had a short computer quiz that the student could take after reading the books. Passing scores earned points that could be applied toward incentive items from the library. Several kids compete all year to earn the most points.

Reading is an Investment: It was sponsored by the Treasury Department and an investment firm. It was like READQUEST, where you tracked reading minutes. It asked that 3 books about money be read and we did that here, so you could use those same Readquest minutes to enter your child. They will award 50 college savings plans of $500 each, by random drawing. Final date for entries was March 14th

Now is the Time to Review Your Flood Insurance Needs

March 17 - 21 was National Flood Safety Awareness Week, and now is a good time for Oregon homeowners, renters and businesses to review their insurance needs before snow melt and spring rains bring the potential for flooding.

National Flood Safety Awareness Week is sponsored by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), and is supported by state insurance departments, including the Oregon Insurance Division.

Floods can happen anytime, anywhere and without warning. The damage from a flood is not covered under a standard homeowners insurance policy.

What is flood insurance? Flood insurance is a special policy that is federally backed by the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) and is available for homeowners, renters and businesses. The standard flood insurance policy pays belongings.

Business owners: A flood insurance policy coverage will cover up to $500,000 on a non-residential building and its contents.

How much does flood insurance cost? According to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), the average homeowners flood insurance premium is approximately $500 a year. Premiums for flood insurance will vary depending on your risk level for a flood loss, the amount of coverage you choose, the type of coverage you need and your deductible. You can normally choose different deductibles for building property and personal property coverage. The deductibles will apply separately to building property and personal property claims. Your mortgage company can require that your deductible is no more than a certain amount.

How do I buy flood insurance? You can purchase flood insurance for your home or business regardless of whether the property is in a floodplain. Contact your insurance agent or company to find out if your community participates in the NFIP. You can also visit www.floodsmart.gov to get more information about your flood risk.

Plan ahead: Flood insurance has a waiting period... it's very important to plan ahead. A flood insurance policy normally will not go into effect until 30 days after you purchase the policy.

Additional tips: Make a home inventory; i.e., a record of your personal property, such as clothes, jewelry, furniture, computers and audio/video equipment. Photos and video of your home, as well as sales receipts and the model and serial numbers of items, will make filing a claim simpler. In addition, add insurance information to your inventory information; i.e., the name of your insurance company and agent, policy numbers and contact information.

Make sure you have bottled water, a first aid kit, flashlights, a battery-powered radio, non-perishable food items, blankets, clothing, prescription drugs, eyeglasses, personal hygiene supplies and a small amount of cash.

If you need to evacuate your home, turn off all utilities and disconnect appliances to reduce the chance of additional damage and electrical shock when utilities are restored.

for direct physical damage to insured property up to the replacement cost or actual cash value (ACV) of actual damages or the policy limit of liability, whichever is less.

Homeowners: You may purchase flood insurance covering up to $250,000 of flood damage to your home. A standard flood policy will cover structural damage, including damage to the furnace, water heater, air conditioner, floor surfaces (carpeting and tile) and debris clean-up. The contents of the home are not covered under a standard policy, but for an additional premium, you also may purchase flood coverage for up to $100,000 of damage to your personal property. Coverage for basements, crawlspaces and ground-level enclosures on elevated homes is limited. If your home has these spaces, be sure to ask your insurance agent about any restrictions in your coverage.

Renters: Flood is not covered under a basic renters insurance policy. Talk with your insurance agent about your flooding risks to decide if you need flood coverage for your

Are You Tired of High Gas Prices?

Boy, me too! I hate hearing Exxon only made 40.6 Billion dollars in profit last year. This year though, they should break the 100 Billion dollars in profit club. With gas prices skyrocketing right now, I'm sure that they will make far more than that, while you and I pay the bill.

That is the reason however, for my search for fuel economy. For the last year I have been searching for the best way to get better gas mileage out of ANY vehicle. My truck is diesel and my wife's car is gas. I wanted to improve mileage in both of them and I did with this:

Our US PATENTED and proven fuel catalyst has been scientifically tested for over 13 years. It will not void any warranties. It will not harm your engine in any way. In fact, it will make your vehicle run better! How? It cleans your engine removing all of the carbon deposits left from unburned fuel. Our product burns your fuel completely. A clean engine reduces your maintenance costs and extends the life of your engine. It will not cost you an arm and a leg either.

Increases your fuel mileage up to 35%

Which means, you will be able to go further on every tank of gas.

Increases your horsepower up to 20%

Reduces your exhaust emissions up to 80%

So, now you can do your part to Help Prevent Global Warming!

I wasn't looking for a home based business when I found this. What I was looking for was fuel economy. I have a full time job. I tried the product as a customer and after I saw the results for myself I decided: Why not get paid to save money on gas? Could be fun. Since joining 3 months ago, I have learned how to do internet marketing. I bought courses from the internet "gurus" that have really helped me. Now I AM having fun at this! I will teach ANYONE who joins under me how to market their website so you won't have to bug friends and family to join. This is not a scam. This is a US PATENTED product that works and I will show you how to make money with this! You do not have to join the business. Just be a customer and save money. If you do decide to join, I will help you every step of the way. Or, you can keep giving every dollar you can, to greedy oil billionaires. The decision is yours.

Lions District Governor Honored by the Royal Rosarians

District Governor Jim Jagers, member of the Beavercreek Lions, was named "2007 Newsmaker of the Year" by the Royal Rosarians Foundation for "an act of heroism as reported by the KPAM 860."

Lions at the District O Cabinet Meeting congratulate DG Jim Jagers for this prestigious award

Presenting the award for Jim's flood relief work in Vernonia was KPAM's Bob Miller. DG Jagers accepted on behalf of the Lions of Oregon, as there were many Lions throughout the state that contributed to the effort.

The audience applauded in amazement when DG Jagers explained that the LCIF made $10,000 available to help with the flood relief within 15 minutes of his phone call.

A little background: Jim Jagers is the Lions District Governor for District O, which includes Vernonia, Tillamook and Astoria. When the Lions heard about the severe flooding, they immediately went into action and sent out a call for help from other Lions across the state. Jim contacted the Lions Clubs International Foundation for a grant to assist in relief efforts and had an answer from them within 15 minutes, that they would give the District a grant of $10,000. The Lions first loaded up bleach, drinking water and cleaning supplies and took them up there. After that, they made numerous other trips to provide additional cleaning supplies, boots, shovels, etc. I think they may have collected food as well, but I'm not sure. His wife, Sue, took up dozens of cookies for the workers. She was also impressed with the inmates who were working as hard as anyone to help with the clean up and I remember her telling me she thanked one of them and he told her no one else had thanked them. The Lions also put out a request for financial donations and collected quite a bit to help with the effort. After a period of cleaning time, the Lions then put out a call for furniture, decent furniture to contribute to those who lost everything and they've even been working on trying to get some travel trailers donated (and did succeed in getting at least one) for some who needed housing. There were numerous Lions from across the state helping out in gathering and making monetary gifts, and driving their trucks and vehicles up to Vernonia. Jim was one of the key individuals spearheading the efforts, along with the Lions state Council Chair, David Rich and some others.

In accordance with this special honor, the Royal Rosarians will plant a rose in the city of Portland in Jim's honor. Congratulations, DG Jim and the Lions of Oregon for step-

What's a Grad Party?

The Senior Grad Party is an event organized by the Senior Class Parents and held on the night of Graduation. It is an Alcohol- and Drug-Free all-night party. This will keep our new Graduates off the streets in a safe and fun environment.

The party is held at a location that is kept secret. The new Graduates will meet at the High School on the evening of graduation, and be transported to the Site for 6 hours of fun and games before returning to the High School, usually between 4:00 - 5:00 a.m.

There are over 500 kids in this year's 2008 class; and we are expecting about 250-300 kids to attend the Graduation Celebration. There is a ticket cost, which we will try to keep minimal by conducting fundraising events. It is our final gift to our High School children, and will be a night that these kids will carry with them for a very long time.

You can support the Grad Party by participating in and helping with our fundraising events. We have a BBQ at the home football games, sell OCHS sweatshirts, and other merchandise at home football and basketball games,

Oregon City Farmers Market Prepares For Fourth Season

The Oregon City Farmers Market is set to re-open for its fourth year on May 3, and market organizers are asking interested vendors to register to sell their produce and/or goods.

For the past three seasons, the Oregon City Farmers Market has drawn both customers and vendors to its hill-top location - the Clackamas County Public Services Building parking lot - and more than 30,000 customers visited last season.

The market emphasizes sustainability through its educational booths and attracts shoppers seeking to buy sustainably produced, local food. There is limited space available for garden-related craft booths.

If you are a vendor interested in selling your goods or produce at the Oregon City Farmers Market, call Jackie Hammond-Williams at 503-734-0192 or go to orcifyfarmersmarket.com for more information.

The market will open May 3 and run every Saturday, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., through October.

Oregon City Vacuum Center will be moving to its new location at 14214 Fir St. Suite G Oregon City, OR 97045. The scheduled date of opening the new location will be on April 28, 2008, or shortly thereafter depending on any unforeseen delays.

The most important reason for the move is because of our customers. Years ago, the store had better parking, because of many changes in general over the years it's become so difficult for people to find a place to park.

Our history; Don Kirkpatrick started the business in July of 1979. He & his wife Anna May operated the store until 2001 when Anna became ill, then Don sold the business. Don continued to have a presence at the store until June of 2007, then sadly passed away in July. The couple had a positive honest reputation within the community for providing good old fashioned honest service. We continue with the same business practices Don & Anna May set forth.

What's been happening over the last 3 years; August 2005 James Allen, a long time customer, purchased the business and brought a longtime employee of his, Sandy Lundy into the store. We refreshed the store appearance, added a great deal more inventory so our customers can get what they need now so there is no waiting, improved on repair turn around times for customers which is either on the spot repair (which Don did) or within a day. We then added an informational website about us, and put the store in several phone directories. Then we started becoming more involved with charity organizations such as Fill a Stocking, Fill a Heart, March of Dimes, local schools fund raising auctions, and others beneficial fund raising events. In April 2006, the Oregonian wrote an article on Don Kirkpatrick which was a

More information can be found on the County website at:

The Committee for Citizen Involvement is a process-oriented committee, providing resources and opportunities for citizens to participate effectively in Clackamas County's land use planning and decision-making process.

The Committee meets the third Tuesday of the month from 7:00-9:00 p.m. For more information, contact Barbara Smolak, Citizen Involvement at 503. 655.8552 or barbarasmo@co.clackamas.or.us.

The Quarterly Town Hall Meeting for the Hamlet of Beavercreek took place at Beavercreek Elementary School at 7:00 p.m. with 52 members and guests in attendance.

The guest speaker was Ellen Rogalin, Clackamas County Community Relations Specialist. There was a Powerpoint presentation and she provided handouts. She explained the timeline for Metro and Clackamas, Multnomah and Washington Counties to determine what land

Clackamas County Committee for Citizen Involvement Met March 18

The Committee for Citizen Involvement (CCI) of Clackamas County met Tuesday, March 18, 2008, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Public Services Building, 2051 Kaen Road, Oregon City, 4th floor, room 497.

The proposed agenda included a report from Clackamas County Planning Division, a report on the hamlets and vil-would be put in either "Urban Reserves" or "Rural Reserves."

This process was brought about by Senate Bill 1011 enacted by the 2007 Legislature. This Bill establishes the rules, process and criteria for designating the Urban/Rural Reserves.

There was also a copy of the Hamlet of Mulino's request to have all its land put into the Rural Reserves. This was submitted to the Board of County Commissioners and deemed premature as that body will not make the decision.

In this process Metro, Clackamas, Multnomah and Washington Counties MUST agree on the reserves for the next 40-50 years. This decision MUST be unanimous. The final decision also has to be made by the Fall of 2009. This means that a lot needs to be done in order to meet the deadline.

The members were assured by Ms. Rogalin that there would be public input along the way.

What is an Urban Reserve?: an area outside the current Urban Growth Boundary that may be used for potential urban development in the next 40-50 years.

What is a Rural Reserve?: an area outside the current Urban Growth Boundary that cannot be used for urban development in the next 40-50 years. This means Metro will not be able to develop this land.

The purpose of reserves is to identify land needs to increase long term protection of farmland and natural areas, predictability about location of future growth, efficiencies in services and infrastructures and region wide support for regional growth decisions.

There is a 5 mile buffer "drawn" around the current UGB. The property in this 5 mile buffer will be looked at for placement into the reserves. Beavercreek is right in the middle of the buffer. This means that yes, we are right in the middle of it again!

There is so much information to cover that it cannot be given adequate coverage in this article. For more information go to: <http://www.metro-region.org/index.cfm/go/by.web/id=26257> and read all about it. The Clackamas County site is not up at this time, but when information is available I'll put it in the paper.

We all need to get involved and have our voices heard if we plan on sustaining the lifestyle we hold dear. Elizabeth Graser-Lindsey also gave a report on the reserves.

After both presentations, the door prizes drawing was held. In total, 5 prizes were won. A $25.00 gift certificate to Bugatti's in Oregon City, a four layer cake from "His Bakery" located in OC Point in Oregon City ($25.00 value), 3 cans of Acro Pure Paint from Millers Paint in Oregon City ($84.00 value), a pair of earrings from Fabulous Stuff by Bonnie Merchant ($48.00 value) and 2 doggie Scrub 'N Bubbles certificates (value $33.00). In all, $122.00 was raised with the sale of door prize tickets. The money raised in the past has been used to pay for the "Welcome to the Hamlet of Beavercreek" signs. Since we have almost met our goal to pay for the signs the focus will change. It is planned to continue having door prizes and put the money in an account for other Hamlet needs. Bill Merchant suggested that the money could be used to pay for items needed for the Second Annual Hamlet Happening. The first one was held last Fall at the John Hopkins Demonstration Forest.

Joe Keicher made a motion to have the Board meet a half hour earlier each month for three months to facilitate the breadth of information that needs to be taken care of on a monthly basis. The motion passed.

There was only one land-use application before the members, a manufactured home for care renewal, it passed.

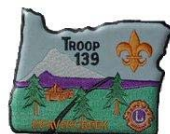

Elizabeth Graser-Lindsey gave an update on the Beavercreek Road Concept Plan. The annexation that passed last year that included the airport on Beavercreek Road is in litigation at this time and the annexation of the Oregon City Golf Club failed in the March election this year.

In previous months there was a lot of unhappiness regarding the expenditure of $400.00 to an attorney for legal advice on the Beavercreek Road Concept Plan even though the action was approved by members. Questions were raised as to just what we got for our money. It was felt that what we got wasn't any different than one could get off the Internet. It was suggested to look into the matter since the

Due to time constraints it was decided to table the Rules and Clarifications until the next meeting.

Everyone is encouraged to attend the monthly Hamlet Community meetings and the quarterly Town Hall meetings to participate and share ideas and concerns on the issues pertinent to our community. paperwork submitted to the Hamlet was inconclusive. It was announced at the meeting that the attorney consulted in the matter has written the Hamlet and has reversed his fees and removed himself from the controversy.

In months past it was noted that some of the entries in the By-laws needed clarification due to ambiguity in the wording. The By-laws and Rules Committee submitted a report on those clarifications at the meeting. There seemed to be a disagreement on whether the report submitted was pertinent or if it moves the Hamlet in the wrong direction. Elizabeth Graser-Lindsey was unhappy about the report and suggested that the clarifications be set aside. It was noted by Chair, Bill Merchant, that the clarifications did not change the by-laws, but merely laid out the intent of the Articles so that everyone would be on the same page. This was to avoid any misunderstandings that could arise due to misinterpretations of what was written.

Joe Keicher stated that he was unhappy about the article that states that anyone who is elected to the Hamlet Board can be removed by the Board of County Commissioners if in its opinion the individual has acted improperly. Bill Merchant explained that the article in question has always been part of the by-laws.

available for Adoption!

Hello... my name is "Bubba" and I'm available for adoption. I'm a Labrador Retriever/unknown mix.

I'm a 2+ year old male and I weigh approximately 60-100 lbs. As you can see I'm black and brindle in color.

Here is what I have to say for myself!

"I'm Bubba. I'm the happiest, most playful dog you'll ever meet. Give me some exercise to burn off energy, then I will show you how smart I am. I sit when asked, take treats gently, and enjoy rough play. Because of my energy level, I'd do best with a family of older children and adults. I seem to ignore cats, but love people. Needs to be neutered. Come throw a ball for me, and I'll play fetch all day.

For more information on me or other dogs available for adoption, please call the shelter at 503-655-8628 or come by for a visit and a little one-on-one. You can also see us at the Clackamas County Dog Control website at:

www.co.clackamas.or.us/dc/adoptdog.jsp

The shelter is located at 2104 Kaen Rd., in Oregon City. I'm available from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday thru Monday. I'd sure love to get the chance to meet you. "BUBBA"

13,000 Unclaimed Kicker Checks Still Waiting For Their Owners

If you're waiting for a kicker check that never came, it may have been returned to the Oregon Department of Revenue because it couldn't find you.

The U.S. Postal Service returned 25,000 undeliverable kicker checks to the department. So far, 12,000 of those have been claimed by their rightful owners.

"We still have almost 13,000 unclaimed kicker checks," said Department of Revenue Financial Manager Ken Ross. "We've posted on our website the names of people whose kicker checks are waiting for them." The checks total $2.8 million.

The Oregon Department of Revenue keeps unclaimed refunds for two years. After that, Oregon law requires that the funds be transferred to the Oregon Department of State Lands' unclaimed property program. You can get your refund after two years from the state lands department.

For more information and an unclaimed refund request form, visit www.oregon.gov/DOR/PERTAX/start.shtml or call 1-800-356-4222 (toll-free from an Oregon prefix); 503-378-4988 (Salem and outside Oregon). The department's call center is very busy right now, so taxpayers may get busy signals or be on hold for extended periods.

CYNTHIA LOIS BROWN

A funeral was held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, March 26, 2008, in Sts. Peter and Paul Episcopal Church in Portland for Cynthia Lois Brown, who died March 15 at age 78.

Cynthia Lois Cane was born Sept. 1, 1929, in Brighton, England, and moved to San Francisco as an infant. She graduated from the University of San Francisco and was a musician and teacher. She moved to Beavercreek in about 1970 and later lived in Gladstone and Milwaukie. In 1965, she married Charles Brown; he died in 1980.

Survivors include her daughters, Sandra Myatt and Carol Lynn; sons, Thomas and Raymond; sister, Joan M. Carroll; seven grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren. Arrangement by Autumn. Originally appeared in the March 24, 2008, Oregonian.

Addendum to the Hamlet Donation List

There were two items donated to the Hamlet of Beavercreek for their door prize drawings that were received too late to get in the original list on page 4.

The first was from "His Bakery" located in OC Point, the new mall across from the Hwy 213 entrance to Clackamas Community College. The second, a handmade pair of earrings donated by Fabulous stuff by Bonnie Merchant. This is the second time that Ms. Merchant has donated to the cause and we thank her.

The Hamlet is very appreciative of the support we have gotten from the community for our drawings and wanted to be sure not to forget to acknowledge these gifts. The Editor

Free Bird Festival on April 5 Brings Pacific Northwest's Top Breeders to SE Portland

If you love birds, or have thought about adding a colorful, singing pet to your home, come learn about a wide variety of birds from 25 breeders at the free BIRD FESTIVAL on Saturday, April 5, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Unlike in a pet store, at the BIRD FESTIVAL, you meet the breeders. They love sharing their knowledge of their breeds with visitors and can help you find the right bird for you!

Some of the varieties of birds on display include African Greys, Amazons, Bourkes, Budgies, Canaries, Cockatiels, Cockatoos, Conures, Finch, Lovebirds, Macaws, Pacific Parrolets, Parakeets, Quakers, Ringnecks and Senegals.

These great breeders offer their best birds for sale at this special event that draws visitors from all over the Pacific Northwest and as far away as Seattle, WA and Ashland, OR.

And, "The Bird Nerd", Deborah Velardi, will be on hand with her mobile clinic to provide wing, nail and beak grooming, DNA testing and disease testing.

Bring the kids; this is a family event! Stay for lunch: Volunteers from David Douglas school softball boosters will be grilling up inexpensive burgers and hot dogs!

This free event with free parking is put on by the breeders in the warehouse of Quality Cage Co., 5942 SE 111th Ave., (1 long block north of Foster Rd.), Portland, OR 97266. See www.birdfest.net for more information or call the BIRD FESTIVAL hosts at 503-762-2607.

Ken Meter to Present "The Future of Food in Oregon" April 24

Ken Meter, farm and food systems analyst, will present "The Future of Food in Oregon," a picture of the food system in the Northwest and actions that can be taken to improve it, Thursday, April 24, 7:30 p.m., First Congregational Church of Christ, 1126 S.W. Park Ave., Portland.

Admission to the event is free. Oregon Food Bank, which is hosting the event, encourages donations of food and cash at the door. Doors will open at 6:45 p.m. General seating only. No advance tickets.

Meter's work has strengthened local food initiatives in 29 regions across 15 states. His ground-breaking study, "Finding Food in Farm Country," documents economic losses suffered in America's farm communities.

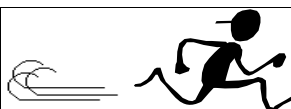

"This is a tremendous opportunity for people to learn about leader," Meter says. "Despite solid progress in building a local food economy, Oregon is losing farm acreage."

Oregon Food Bank is hosting the event. Sponsors include The Capital Press and Burgerville.

Oregon Food Bank is a nonprofit, charitable organization. It is the hub of the Oregon Food Bank Network, a statewide network of 20 regional food banks and 919 agencies and programs serving Oregon and Clark County, Wash.
