December 2012

2nd Annual Christmas Tree Lighting Dec 2nd

Come join your neighbors and friends, or perhaps make new ones! On Sunday, December 2, 2012, at 6:00 p.m. the Hamlet of Beavercreek will be holding it's second Christmas tree lighting ceremony.

This event will take place at the Korner Park located at the intersections of S. Beavercreek, Kamrath and Leland Roads. It is hoped to have a Yule fire available again this year for heat. The Hamlet will be providing cookies, hot chocolate and coffee to help you stay warm.

Music will be provided by Mark Seymour, a local talent, to lead us in the singing of Christmas carols and mutual comradery.

So, please come and celebrate the beginning of the holiday season with your fellow "Beavercreekers" (is that an actual word?). Hope to see you there!!!

Grange Goings On

On Saturday, November 3, 2012, following the First Saturday Breakfast, the Beavercreek Grange held their regular meeting which included their election of officers for the next year.

Patricio "Pat" Ramirez was re-elected for another two years as the Master of the Grange. Those of you who go to the First Saturday Breakfasts know Pat as the gentleman who makes the rounds serving coffee and juice and making everyone feel welcome and at home.

Ed Schettig, the gentleman who usually works as the cashier was re-elected as Overseer. Kim Schettig, one of the people who waits tables and makes sure everyone is taken care of, and that they get all they need to eat was re-elected as the Secretary/Treasurer. In this endeavor she is aided by Leila Dumolt who was also elected to office.

Others who were elected to office were:

Lecturer: Shirley Cullison

Steward: Gary Dumolt

Asst. Steward: Bud Dumolt

Lady Asst. Steward: Leila Dumolt

The December 8th Christmas party and dinner plans were finalized. The Grange will furnish the ham, turkey and drinks. It is requested that those who are attending bring various side dishes such as salads, desserts, and etc. to fill out the menu.

During the end of November through the first half of December the Beavercreek Lions hold their canned food drive. If you would like to donate to this and you will be attending events held by the Grange in December you are encouraged to bring your donations with you to either the Christmas party or the breakfast on December 1st. These will be included in the food boxes that go out just before Christmas to those less fortunate.

A quilt has been donated to the Grange for a raffle. The quilt is a hand made yarn quilt in shades of blue, pink and white. It would be great for a throw on your sofa for these

After other Grange business was discussed the meeting was adjourned.

Beavercreek Grange #276 meets the first Saturday of the month at 1:00 p.m. at 22041 S. Kamrath Road. One block south of the intersection of S. Beavercreek/Leland and Kamrath Roads in downtown Beavercreek. The community is invited to attend a meeting and learn more about the Grange and its programs.

Clackamas County to Open New Family Justice Center to Help Families Escape Domestic Violence

The Clackamas County Board of Commissioners has agreed to partner with law enforcement and local service providers to open an important new facility in the county. A new Family Justice Center of Clackamas will open in 2013 on the County Campus at Red Soils in Oregon City. The Center will offer a safe location where law enforcement officials, legal service providers, victim advocates and community providers can work together to help families escape and recover from domestic violence.

The Center will be a place where victims can report a crime, plan for their safety, get counseling, obtain help with a restraining order, and get information on shelter, medical help, and transportation.

Family Justice Centers have opened across the country, and are recognized as important for domestic violence prevention and intervention. Family Justice Centers have helped communities reduce homicides; increase victim safety; empower victims; reduce fear and anxiety for victims and their children; and reduce incidents where victims are intimidated.

Dept of Revenue Calls Attention To E-Mail and Telephone Scams

The Oregon Department of Revenue is warning taxpayers to be aware of e-mail and telephone scams that use the agency's name as a lure to obtain personal and financial information.

Taxpayers have reported receiving phone calls from fraudsters posing as Department of Revenue tax collectors. The caller tells the person that they owe the State money, and asks them to wire a payment immediately to clear up their tax issue. Other taxpayers have reported receiving robocalls informing them they can claim a large tax rebate if they call back to a certain phone number.

People also have reported instances of "phishing," in which phony tax agency e-mails and websites are used to trick people into revealing information like numbers for Social Security, bank accounts, or credit cards.

"These scams occur throughout the year, but tend to become more prevalent during the tax filing season," said Theresa Schuh, manager of Revenue's Personal Income Tax Program. "Taxpayers need to be cautious and on their guard whenever someone is asking them for money or for personal information."

Several tips to help guard against fraud:

-- The Oregon Department of Revenue doesn't initiate contact with a taxpayer by e-mail. If you receive such an e-mail do not reply, open any attachments, or click on any web links.

-- Revenue will never ask a taxpayer to wire money to any destination, either within the United States or to a foreign country. (Scam artists asked one taxpayer to wire money to Lima, Peru.) The department does allow different electronic payment options, such as direct debit from your bank accounts or credit card payments. Visit Revenue's web site at <http://www.oregon.gov/dor/ESERV/Pages/epayments.aspx> for more information about electronic payments.

-- The Oregon Department of Revenue maintains a list of official mailing addresses for our various offices and the post office boxes we use at http://www.oregon.gov/dor/Pages/contact_us.aspx. "If you're asked to send something to an address not on these lists, it's not us," Schuh said.

-- One clear sign that an e-mail or website purporting to be Revenue might be fake: it has an address that ends in .com or .net. Most official agency business comes from websites and e-mails that have .gov or state.or.us in the address.

If a taxpayer ever feels suspicious about a call from someone claiming to be from Revenue, they should ask for the person's extension number and then call the agency directly at 1-800-356-4222, Schuh said. Taxpayers also should feel free to call that number to check the validity of any robocall they might receive.

CCC Asking the Community to 'Imagine Clackamas'

Clackamas Community College will mark its 50th year of service to the district in 2016. As the college approaches this milestone, the Board of Education is seeking input from the community to shape the future. On Monday, Nov. 19, the college launched the "Imagine Clackamas" online community engagement survey.

The community engagement survey asks community members, as well as students, what they value most about CCC and how the college can best meet training and education needs in the future. The survey is one aspect of Imagine Clackamas, a year-long community engagement outreach process.

"Imagine Clackamas is designed to strengthen relationships with community members," said Shelly Parini, dean of College Advancement. "This initiative will shine a light on areas where we should improve and adapt the college's educational and training services to better meet the needs of the communities we serve for the next 50 years."

The Imagine Clackamas survey has been developed over the past few months through community meetings, one in each of the college district's seven zones. Suggestions and recommendations gathered from these meetings refined both the scope and the design of the survey.

After the conclusion of the survey at the end of February, a series of community focus groups will begin. Feedback collected from the survey and the focus groups will guide the college's decision-making processes, priorities and activities for the future.

Members of the community can complete the 10-minute online survey at the college website, www.clackamas.edu. The survey will be accessible from November 19 through February 19, 2013. Hard copies of the survey will be available by calling 503-594-3015.

Message from the Board of Directors

At the board meeting on October 15, the Board of Directors of Clackamas Fire District #1 appointed John Blanton to fill the vacancy due to the resignation of Director Toby Forsberg. Director Blanton has lived and been active in the North Clackamas community for over 20 years. He worked for Clackamas Community College and the State of Oregon in Workforce Development and was the former business owner of Quiktime Signs in Milwaukie.

Director Blanton has also served as a board member and been involved in a number of community and professional organizations including the Clackamas Emergency Services Foundation, the North Clackamas County Chamber of Commerce and Sunnyside Community Church. He and his wife Jody are retired.

Director Blanton's term will expire on June 20, 2013. He was sworn in at the board meeting on November 21, 2012, at the Mt. Scott Fire Station.

Preliminary Post-Thanksgiving 2012 Holiday Reporting Period Statistics

Preliminary information indicates fewer traffic fatalities and DUI arrests made by Oregon State Police (OSP) troopers during the 2012 Thanksgiving holiday reporting period between 6:00 p.m., November 21, and 11:59 p.m., November 25.

To date, the following two fatal traffic crashes, both occurring on Thanksgiving, have been reported to ODOT's Fatality Analysis Reporting System:

* On Thursday, November 22, at approximately 3:40 a.m., a 44-year old Elgin man died in a single vehicle traffic crash at the intersection of Highway 204 and Summerville Road west of Elgin. OSP is continuing the investigation.

* On Thursday, November 22, at approximately 6:25 p.m., a 29-year old southeast Portland man died after he was struck by a vehicle while trying to cross SE 82nd Avenue (Highway 213) on foot. OSP is continuing the investigation.

Three people died during each of the 2011 and 2010 Thanksgiving holiday reporting periods in Oregon traffic crashes. Since 1970, approximately 240 people have died on Oregon roads during this holiday period.

OSP troopers reported a decrease in the number of DUII arrests compared with the total reported last year during the Thanksgiving holiday period. This year, troopers reported 47 DUII arrests (including 12 on Saturday), down from 72 DUII arrests reported during last year's holiday reporting period. OSP troopers reported 47 holiday period DUII arrests in 2010 and 53 DUII arrests in 2009.

Welcome Our New Employee

Welcome Patty Rooney!

I would like to begin by saying that I am so excited and very honored to be given the opportunity to work for such a highly respected and accredited organization.

The staff here is truly amazing and has made me feel a part of the family from the very beginning.

I am a proud mother of two teenagers, Tyler who is 15 and Ally who is 14. They are my reason for living and always will be as everything I do, I do for them, even if they haven't realized it yet!

I have been working in the temporary position of Receptionist at the Admin Office for the Fire District since June 2011. Before coming to CFD1, I worked for 10 years for a wholesale distribution company where I performed a variety of responsibilities within the company that included sales, billing, accounts receivable, purchasing, inventory control and collections, just to name a few.

I am really looking forward to many years ahead with the Fire District.

And just one more thing.....GO DUCKS!

CCC Recognized for Support of Military Families

Brigadier General Mike Caldwell of the Oregon Military Department recognized Clackamas Community College for its outstanding work supporting military families and veterans at a ceremony Saturday, Nov. 10, in Salem. Caldwell presented CCC the 2012 Family Program Community Purple Award during the Oregon Community College Association annual conference luncheon with college leaders from around the state in attendance.

In February, CCC was named the 2012 Family Program Community Purple Award winner by the National Guard Bureau. This national award is given to one community group or organization from across the country each year that provides support to family and service members of both the Air and Army National Guard.

"The tireless and continued effort of Clackamas Community College in support of veterans, service members and families from all branches of the service is nothing short of remarkable," said Caldwell, the deputy director of the Oregon Military Department. "Clackamas Community College's numerous events and initiatives have strengthened the Oregon Army and Air National Guard, as well as being open to veterans and families from all branches of the service."

CCC has been recognized several times over the past few years for its efforts to support veterans and military families. These awards include the ESGR (Employer Support for the Guard and Reserve) "My Boss is a Patriot" award and the ESGR "Pro-Patria" Award. The college was a finalist for the ESGR National "Freedom Award" in 2011 and has been named a GI-Jobs Military Friendly School for three consecutive years from 2010 through 2012.

The Community Purple Award is one of several of the 2012 National Guard Family Program Volunteer Awards. Nominations are solicited from across the country to recognize the important contributions of volunteers to the Guard's family programs. The CCC award recognizes the efforts of President Joanne Truesdell; Shelly Parini, dean of College Advancement; and Greg Myers, veterans affairs coordinator.

Since 2007, CCC has increased its services and support for veterans and military families through several initiatives. The college opened its Veterans Education and Training Center in November 2009, one of the deliverables from a federal grant the college received for veteran outreach and support. The college is a regional leader in translating military training into college credit.

In addition, the college has hosted three major career and benefit fairs, bringing veterans, members of the Oregon National Guard and military families together with dozens of veteran-friendly employers and veteran service providers. These fairs have been attended by guard leadership from Washington D.C. and have been recognized as the national model for the military to civilian reintegration process.

The U.S. Army Reserve opened the Army Strong Community Center on CCC's Oregon City campus in 2011, the first center of its kind located west of the Mississippi and the first to be located at a community college. The center connects military families with support resource in the local commuhour Saturday workshop led by CCC horticulture instructors. The class runs from 8 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in Clairmont, room 117. The cost of the workshop is $45. For registration information, call 503-594-3292.

Stone Creek Golf Club Wins 2012 U.S. Eco-friendly Golf Course Award

Stone Creek Golf Club, a Peter Jacobsen/Jim Hardy-designed golf course south of Oregon City, received honors for its U.S. eco-friendliness. It was singled out by Links magazine as number six in the country.

The 18-hole public golf course, owned by Clackamas County and first opened in 2002, was constructed with wildlife corridors to minimize the disturbance of nature. Stone Creek has an integrated pest management program that uses pesticides sparingly and irrigates only the in-play areas, allowing other areas to go fallow in the summer and provides habitat for ground-nesting birds. Lakes on the course are 100-percent buffered and the water is tested annually for pesticides and fertilizers.

Area Family Receives Oregon Association of Conservation Districts Cooperator of the Year Award

Molalla-area landowners Jim and Mary Toops were recognized by the Oregon Association of Conservation Districts (OACD) as their statewide Cooperator of the Year in the less-than-50-acres category. The award recognizes individuals for their exemplary support of the conservation goal of the organization, to promote the conservation and wise use of Oregon's natural resources.

Jim and Mary accepted their honor last week in Eugene at the OACD annual meeting and conference.

The Toops purchased their property along the Molalla River and Woodcock Creek in 2004, with a lofty vision for the fifteen acres of pasture that was then almost entirely area residents and visitors," said Jeroen Kok, Clackamas County Parks and Forest Manager. "The professionalism displayed by everyone - from the management to the greens keepers - is focused on outstanding customer services, efficient operations and environmental leadership."

Also on the top 10 list are the Vineyard Golf Club on Martha's Vineyard (#1), Pebble Beach Golf Links (#7) and Bandon Dunes Golf Resort (#8).

Wentworth/CCC Partnership Supports Veterans

Military personnel and veterans will benefit from a new partnership with Wentworth Chevytown car dealership that will began on Veteran's Day, Sunday, Nov. 11.

The Wentworth family and Wentworth Chevytown have joined with the Clackamas Community College Foundation in support of the Military Families Scholarship Endowment (MFSE). Wentworth is offering preferred pricing on new and used vehicles to all military personnel and veterans.

In addition to the special pricing offer, Wentworth Chevrolet will donate $100 to the CCC Foundation MFSE for each vehicle sold through this program. The $100 donation applies to military personnel, veterans and the public, who mention support of the scholarship fund. The MFSE provides scholarship benefits to the dependents of active military and veterans.

In a letter to the CCC Foundation announcing the partnership, sales manager Doug Wentworth stated, "We appreciate the work you are currently doing for our Military Personnel and Veterans...this program has been specially created to show our support."

The new partnership will help veteran families have adequate and affordable transportation to school, work, and for family needs, while it adds funds for scholarships, textbooks, and emergency needs.

"We are grateful to the Wentworth family and Wentworth Chevrolet for this partnership that will benefit our military and veteran families in many ways," said Greg Fitzgerald, dominated by blackberries and scotch broom. Their goal was to raise a few head of cattle and bring the property back to it's natural beauty.

Along the way, Jim and Mary received assistance from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service and the Clackamas County Soil and Water Conservation District. These organizations assisted in riparian restoration, habitat development, rotational grazing, invasive weed control, fencing and mud management.

Follow-up visits to evaluate the riparian buffer plantings have revealed proof of the hard work and extra care this couple give to their projects. Almost all of the trees they planted survived, and wildlife habitat boxes -- including those for birds, mason bees, and bats -- were all in use.

"Whatever Jim and Mary set their mind to, they achieve," remarked Jenne Reische, riparian planner for the Clackamas County Soil and Water Conservation District. "They seem to have conservation in their blood and any ideas that we discuss get quickly implemented with enthusiasm and care for the land."

Conservation District planners have enjoyed working with these cooperators, and are very proud that the Oregon Association of Conservation Districts recognized the Toops' for their hard work and caring stewardship of natural resources.

Fire Destroys ODOT Incident Response Vehicle

A vehicle fire that fully engulfed and destroyed an Oregon Department of Transportation Incident Response truck Wednesday morning on Interstate 205 southbound lanes near Oregon City is believed to have been accidental. The fire blocked the southbound lanes for about 30 minutes until firefighters got it under control, and all lanes were opened by 9:00 a.m. ODOT will conduct an investigation to determine the cause of the fire.

On November 28, 2012 at approximately 6:30 a.m., an ODOT Incident Response vehicle arrived on scene to assist Oregon State Police (OSP) at a non-injury traffic crash that was partially blocking the southbound off ramp to Highway 213 (Park Place interchange). The ODOT vehicle was parked blocking one lane and its driver got out and walked up to where an OSP trooper was investigating the crash. While returning to the Incident Response vehicle, the ODOT employee saw it was on fire. The OSP trooper cleared the first crash scene and circled back around to stop north of the ODOT vehicle on fire and blocked the southbound lanes.

ODOT's Incident Response vehicles routinely carry flares and canisters of gasoline - used to assist stranded motorists - which contributed to the intensity of the fire.

Firefighters from Clackamas Fire District 1 and Gladstone Fire Department responded to the scene and had the fire under control about 7:00 a.m. allowing lanes to begin to re-open.

ODOT personnel remained at the scene and inspected the traffic lane where the vehicle fire occurred. The highway was not damaged and the driver was not injured.

ODFW Blocking Public's Voice

In a rare move the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) is blocking the public's voice in its upcoming Commission meeting in Portland.

On Friday, December 7th the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife will convene for the only meeting all year in the area most affected by Nestlé's proposal to bottle 160 million gallons of water a year in the Columbia River Gorge. Yet the public is being excluded from speaking out against Nestlé at this meeting. After learning that anti-Nestlé activists planned to testify at the December 7th Commission Meeting in opposition to the ODFW's involvement with Nestlé, the Commission decided to bar Bark-Out from speaking by canceling the public forum on the meeting agenda.

We will not let them silence us! Take action today. Help us ensure that the Nestlé Water Bottling Plant is included in the ODFW Commission's February meeting agenda and plan to join us in February 8th to hold ODFW accountable for its role in the Nestlé proposal. Go to <http://salsa.democracyinaction.org/dia/track.jsp?v=2&c=%2BnCufljdUo8qYwCvkJ9xfw1oqP3dmzrt> for more information.

Background:

The ODFW Commission is the boss of ODFW director Roy Elicker and has the power to withdraw the permits that would allow Nestlé to proceed with its plans to bottle public water currently used at the ODFW Oxbow fish hatchery in Cascade Locks. The Keep Nestlé Out of the Gorge Coalition has been planning for months to testify at the December 7th Commission Meeting, alongside other concerned Oregonians. Public testimony on any item not on the meeting agenda is reserved for a 'public forum' at the start of the meeting, which is exactly when we were planning on speaking – until we discovered that in a last minute move the public forum had been eliminated, effectively shutting us out of the meeting.

This would not be a problem if ODFW would include Nestlé permits on its agenda, and allow meaningful public participation. But, despite three years of pushing Nestlé's permits and receiving thousands of public comments asking ODFW to withdraw the water exchange permits, the ODFW Commission has yet to include a discussion of Nestlé permits on its agenda, preferring instead to do Nestlé's dirty work behind closed doors.

We are respectfully choosing to cancel our presence at the December Commission Meeting to allow ODFW the necessary space to address the controversial issue of gillnetting in Lower Columbia fisheries. However, it is unacceptable for ODFW to continue to ignore another controversial issue that also affects Columbia fisheries: Nestlé's plans to bottle public water from Oxbow Spring. It is well past time that we get answers about why the State is pushing to be the first in history to cede public water for Nestlé's corporate profit. We demand that ODFW include a meaningful discussion of Nestlé permit T-11109 on its agenda for the February meeting. For more information call Meredith at 503-331-0374, or meredith@bark-out.org.

Canby Manufacturer Seeks Trainees for Welding Internship

Canby manufacturer JV Northwest is partnering with Clackamas Community College to recruit and train 20 new welders in the next six months. The program includes a paid internship in welding and fabrication and is designed to lead to full-time work.

The program is geared toward individuals who have some welding experience or welding training and are seeking additional training. The training lasts for 10 weeks, and during the training, the participants will work part time at JV Northwest. Once the program is complete, the candidates will be eligible for work in the Fabrication Department at JV Northwest.

JV Northwest produces stainless steel pressure vessels for the brewing, wine, dairy, pharmaceutical and chemical industries.

Applicants to the program must have a high school diploma or GED and pass a drug screening, criminal background check and a physical exam.

Workforce Development Services at CCC is recruiting students for these positions and working with the Oregon Employment Department to locate qualified applicants. Funding for the training is provided by the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) and CASE (Credentials Acceleration and Support for Employment) grant.

CCC Dean Named NCMPR's ‘Communicator of the Year’

Shelly Parini, Clackamas Community College's Dean of College Advancement, was named the 2012 Communicator of the Year by the National Council for Marketing and Public Relations (NCMPR). The honor was presented to Parini at the recent NCMPR District 7 regional conference in Salem in October.

Parini joined CCC six years ago as the Dean of College Advancement. While serving as Dean, she has successfully organized and led efforts on major college initiatives and marketing efforts including the following: CCC's 40th anniversary celebration, the Military Family Scholarship Endowment, the Yellow Ribbon Career and Benefits Fair, spearheading the use of social media, developing the “Imagine Clackamas” community engagement initiative, and increasing collaboration with students in marketing and communication.

While working full time at CCC, Parini also has excelled in her academic studies. In June 2012 she was awarded a Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies degree from Marylhurst University.

The NCMPR Communicator of the Year Award honors a two-year college marketing professional who has demonstrated special leadership or ability in college communications. It is awarded annually in each of NCMPR's seven districts, and district recipients automatically become a nominee for the national award, which is presented at the national conference in March 2013.

The November meeting of the Hamlet of Beavercreek was held on Wednesday, November 28, 2012, at the Beavercreek Grange at 7:00 p.m. with 34 residents and guests in attendance.

The meeting was called to order at 7:03 p.m.

The new Board introduced themselves to those present and thanked everyone for attending.

The first item on the agenda was by Michael Younce who lives on Ivel Street in Beavercreek. He came before the Hamlet to discuss issues that have arisen in his neighborhood. It was shared with Mr. Younce that the Hamlet could not help him with the enforcement of the neighborhood's CC&Rs, but could only address the issues that the County has jurisdiction over. It was shared that the neighborhood's CC&Rs supercede the County Zoning Development Ordinances (ZDOs), but the neighborhood needs to get together and discuss their issues in a neighborhood meeting.

Someone asked about the traffic at the intersection of S. Beavercreek/Kamrath and Leland Roads. It was announced that the report that is coming out as a result of the traffic study done a few months ago will be discussed at the January 23, 2013, Hamlet meeting.

The residents of Ivel Street also shared that their neighborhood is being plagued by a rash of burglaries from around their homes such as the theft of gas cans and gas, etc. They were thanked for sharing the information as this would put others on alert to be more diligent.

Joan Martinez read the highlights of the October 24, 2012, meeting. The report was approved by acclamation.

The guest speaker for the evening was Christine Kosinski, our Corresponding Secretary, who shared her recent and ongoing brush with identity fraud.

In September she and her husband were in Wilsonville shopping and stopped at the Costco gas station. They gave the attendant their credit card, but he told them that they only accepted American Express so Christine and her husband gave the attendant their debit card to pay for the fuel.

When they got home they discovered that they did not have the credit card. They tore their car apart and looked everywhere to no avail. A few days later they received an email from their bank. The bank's fraud division told the Kosinskis that a lot of charges had been made on their card all over the area. One transaction over $1,000.00. The card had been used at Walmart, Best Buy and other stores. When the Kosinskis told the bank that they had not made the charges the bank closed the account. So, while waiting for a new card to arrive they could not shop online at their normal locations or use Paypal. They also found out that the thieves had opened about 12 new credit cards in her husband's name. These cards were used before the family received the cards in the mail. Even before the Kosinski's could activate them if they had been legitimate.

Christine started working with the Clackamas Sheriff's office, but the going has been slow due to a lack of funding and a shortage of deputies. Even getting subpoenas issued to get information from the banks has been a nightmare.

If you have lost a card or think you might be a victim of identity theft, call your bank and have the account closed. Call the three credit reporting agencies and have them red flag your credit reports. Call the Sheriff's office and report the theft.

If you later find the card there will be the inconvenience of the cards' account being closed and having to be reopened, and having to wait for the new card, but it will be a lot easier than having to take months out of your life, not to mention the stress of dealing with banks. The banks don't seem to be as interested in helping you get your identity back as they them.

Amy Manning reported that Beavercreek Elementary School is in need of books for the students. She hopes to have more information available for the next meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 7:55 p.m.

Everyone is encouraged to attend the monthly Hamlet Community meetings and the quarterly Town Hall meetings to participate and share ideas and concerns on the issues pertinent to our community. Members 18 years of age and older who live, own a business, or property within the Hamlet area may vote on Hamlet issues. The Hamlet

There were no land use issues before the Hamlet at this meeting. Past land use decisions and their outcomes were discussed.

It was announced that the 2nd Annual Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony will be held on Sunday, December 2, 2012, at the Korner Park in downtown Beavercreek. The event will begin at 6:00 p.m. with carol singing accompanied by local musician Mark Seymour. There will be cocoa, coffee, cookies, etc as well as two fire areas to keep you warm. This event will be held rain or shine so come prepared.

There was a raffle held. The prizes were a Beavercreek Hamlet hat or t-shirt, dog washes from Milner's Veterinary, a Poinsetta and Christmas candle.

There will be no Hamlet meeting in the month of December due to its proximity to Christmas. If any important issues come in during this period the Board will convene to address

Stand for Peace Cancelled

Due to a full calendar, the Ten O'Clock Church will not hold its monthly Stand for Peace in December. In its place, come to the Oasis of Peace Labyrinth Walk on

Of course you can always celebrate the Season of Peace by lighting a candle and spending a few moments prayerfully petitioning for hostilities to end.

Clackamas Community College Offers ESL Classes in Multiple Locations

Clackamas Community College offers English as a Second Language classes at its Oregon City campus and at the Harmony Community Campus in North Clackamas. In addition, classes are offered at outreach centers in both Canby and Molalla.

ESL classes at CCC are taught by professional instructors and are offered at convenient times during both the day and evening. Classes include grammar, reading, writing, conversation and vocabulary.

"Improving English skills is important for getting a job or advancing in a job. It also gives you good skills for helping children with school work," said Andrea Vergun, an ESL instructor at CCC.

Winter term classes begin Monday, Jan. 7, and registration for classes is now open. Class fees range from $20 to $40 for a three-month course.

For more information about ESL classes at CCC, please contact Nena Monterroza at 503-594-3234 or email ne-

BOXTOPS FOR EDUCATION

Box Tops for Education can make a difference in your child's education. Last year, America's schools earned over $74 million from Box Tops. Look for Box Tops throughout your grocery store on hundreds of participating products. Please collect and send in Box Tops. We have a container in the school office for students to put their labels in. We will be posting the collection amount for each classroom. The classroom which brings in the most Box Tops this year will be awarded an ice cream party! The child who brings in the most Box Tops this year will be awarded a $20.00 Barnes & Noble Gift Card!

Career Coaches Helps Students Reach Education and Career Goals

A good coach can make the difference between success and failure. A grant-funded program at Clackamas Community College provides free, customized career coaching to qualified people.

Bob Blaedel of Damascus wanted to earn his welding certification to expand the services at his home-based machine shop. Welding class schedules were not providing the time he needed in the shop to prepare for the certification. But career coaches with the CASE grant (Credential Acceleration and Support for Employment) worked with Blaedel to develop a customized solution that led to his welding certification.

"I'm very indebted to the CASE program. The career coaches totally streamlined the process for me to go for my certification," Blaedel said.

One-on-one career coaching is one of the key services provided through the CASE grant, a statewide Federal

Santa Breakfast December 8

The Beavercreek PTO is pleased to present our Annual Santa Breakfast on Saturday, December 8, 2012, from 8:30-11:00. The is a wonderful tradition in which Beavercreek families come together to share a fabulous breakfast, listen to special music presented by our kindergarten students and of course, visit with and have a picture taken with SANTA!!

Suggested donation for breakfast is $3.50 per person or $3.00 with a can of food. Please come join the fun and festive atmosphere.

Mr. Curtis Goes to Little Rock

On October 20-22, 2012, Mr. Curtis traveled to Little Rock, AR to receive an award on behalf of Beavercreek School. The trip was paid for by the Alliance for a Healthier Generation.

Beavercreek began a formal partnership with the Alliance in the fall of 2011, and because of the efforts to increase PE minutes and have healthier food choices at some classroom parties, the school was recognized as a bronze level award winner. A banner will be hung at the school and the goal for this year is to reach the Silver Level Recognition.

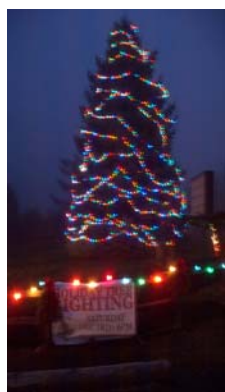

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation was founded in 2005 by the Clinton Foundation and the American Heart Association. Former President Bill Clinton spoke at the event and thanked all of the 251 schools from across the country that were being recognized. Also at the event was the creator of Tae Bo, Billy Blanks. Billy led the group in a Tae Bo workout and also spoke about the importance of PE and physical activity in his schooling and life.

cess. CASE can also assist with accelerated training options designed to prepare people for employment and connect them to employers.

"We provide one-on-one, step-by-step processes to get people where they want to go," said John Kylo, a CASE career coach. "We'll provide guidance on coursework and training, referrals to tutoring labs and then assist with finding employment and success on the job."

Career coaching services, as well as related tutoring services, are free to those being assisted by the CASE grant and all CCC students. To learn more, call or text 503-406-8758 or email mycareercoach@clackamas.edu.

Jan 7th

We have two options for activities on Saturday but we only have enough adults to pick one. The two options are tide pools or clamming. It looks like most scouts were interested in clamming.

What to Expect

The tide table is a little high for clamming but it still may be low enough for us to get some clams. We will probably be driving a short distance to Netarts.

Low Tide - Netarts Bay = +0.6" AT 4:23 p.m.

If you have a bucket, bring it. Each scout must have his own bucket.

Clammers 14 years old or older must have a license. DJ, Justin, and I will be getting a license before we leave on Friday. I believe these are available from Fred Meyers, Bi-Mart, or Fishermans marine.

If you have rubber boots, pack them with you.

Bring an extra change of clothes because you may get wet and mucky.

On our way home Sunday, we plan on stopping at the Tillamook Cheese Factory for some squeaky cheese samples and fun. Pack some money if you want some ice cream, a snack, or a souvenir.

1. Flooding is the most common and costly natural disaster in the U.S. and consumers who want coverage for flooding must purchase it separately from the National Flood Insurance Program. Tsunami losses are covered by flood insurance, as well. Flooding isn't covered in a typical homeowner or renter insurance policy.

2. Have a home inventory. When you file a claim, you will be asked to make a list of everything damaged or destroyed. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners created a free smart phone app to help: <http://tinyurl.com/26bwhw2>.

3. If your home is damaged, immediately contact your insurance company and take steps to protect your property from further damage.

More than 20 percent of all flood insurance claims come from areas with low or moderate flood risk, according to Federal data. Also, many homeowners suffer flood damage as a result of sewer lines backing up. Ask your insurance agent or company if your homeowner policy includes an endorsement for this type of damage.

Adoption!

Hello... my name is "Liam" and I'm available for adoption. I'm a Chihuahua Mix.

I'm a 4-5 year old neutered male and I weigh approximately 10 to 30lbs. As you can see I'm white and tan in color with folded ears.

Here is what I have to say for myself!

"Little Liam - that's me! I am a good example of the saying "good things come in small packages". My little size and loving nature will make me your perfect lap-loving companion. I get along will everyone and feel lonely when I'm not with a friend. A social little fellow like me will be the life of the party, so let's get this party started!"

For more information on me or other dogs available for adoption, please call the shelter at 503-655-8628 or come by for a visit and a little one-on-one. You can also see us at the Clackamas County Dog Control website at:

<http://www.co.clackamas.or.us/dogs/adoptpet.php>

The shelter is located at 13141 S.E. Hwy 212 in Clackamas, Oregon. I'm available from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday thru Monday. I'd sure love to get the chance to meet you. "LIAM"
