Beavercreek Man Arrested and Charged on 30 Counts of First Degree Sex Abuse

Additional Victims Sought

On Friday, May 10, 2013, Clackamas County Sheriff's Office detectives arrested David Alan Feb on 30 counts of Sex Abuse of a Child.

Following a lengthy criminal investigation, Sheriff's Office Child Abuse Team detectives arrested David Alan Feb, age 60, at his Beavercreek residence and transported him to the Clackamas County Jail. He is charged with 30 counts of Sex Abuse in the First Degree. Bail is set at $500,000.

The victim is a family member who was between the ages of 3 and 12 when the alleged abuse occurred. The numerous crimes allegedly occurred at Feb's Beavercreek residence between 2000 and 2009.

Investigators are not ruling out the possibility of other non-related victims.

ADDITIONAL VICTIMS, TIPS SOUGHT

If you or someone you know has been victimized by David Feb, please contact us using the Clackamas County Sheriff's Office Tip Line -- by phone at 503-723-4949 or by using the online e-mail form at <http://www.clackamas.us/sheriff/forms/tip.html>. Please reference Clackamas County Sheriff's Office Case #12-31944.

The public can also submit crime-tip text messages to the Clackamas County Sheriff's Office from a cell phone. All users have to do is send a text message to CRIMES (274637 on your phone keypad) -- with the keyword CCSO as the first word in the message body.

For more information on our Child Abuse Team, visit <http://www.clackamas.us/sheriff/cat.html>

Important reminder: Please do not send emergency messages using the text-messaging system -- in case of an emergency, call 911.

Mother's Day Breakfast Turnout Stunning

The Annual Mother's Day Breakfast held at the Beavercreek Grange was a great success. The hard working members of the Grange served 166 adults and 7 kids. They were so busy that they were really starting to worry if there was going to be enough food.

The Grange would like to thank all the great people that attended and made it such a success. The raffle for the hanging basket was won by William Bender again this year. That is 2 years in a row for him. Congratulations!!

All the net proceeds will be going into the savings account to help finish the siding on the building. The members of the Grange look forward to seeing everyone on June 1st for their last breakfast before the summer break. They will be back on the first Saturday in October (October 5, 2013) for the fall season. Thanks again to everyone for your support.

Oregon Insurers Propose Rates for 2014 Health Plans

The Oregon Insurance Division has posted health insurers' rate requests for small employer and individual health plans that start Jan. 1, 2014. The plans reflect new benefits and new rules under the Federal Affordable Care Act.

Thousands of Oregonians are expected to gain private insurance in the coming year with federal financial help. Consumers will have more choices than ever before since Federal law states that everyone qualifies for coverage, even if they have a pre-existing health condition. Also, the traditional insurers that make up Oregon's already highly competitive health insurance market will be joined by several new entities.

The 2014 health plans for small employers and individuals will include new benefits and limit deductibles. While focusing on preventive care, all plans will include doctor visits, hospital stays, maternity care, emergency room care, prescriptions, and mental health/substance abuse coverage.

In addition to new benefits, Federal reforms closed the gap between rates charged to older and younger people. The changes mean insurance costs may increase for some and decrease for others. For example, Oregonians with serious health issues who are now covered in government-operated high-risk pools can shop for competitive rates in the private market. They, along with many other Oregonians, may qualify for financial help that will lower premiums through Cover Oregon, the State's new health insurance marketplace. Find information at www.coveroregon.com.

Rate filings

Along with 16 insurers, two Consumer Operated and Oriented Plans (CO-OPS) filed plans and proposed rates with the division.

The division's rate review focuses on technical projections about future claims costs but is open to public comment. Shopping for coverage will be easier after the division makes rate decisions by early July and insurers and Cover Oregon provide consumer-friendly information about plan benefits and rates.

Insurance Division actuaries have started their thorough technical review of the filings to determine whether the proposed rates are justified and reasonable. Oregon Insurance Commissioner Lou Savage must approve any rates before they can be charged to policyholders.

The division posted examples of proposed rates in seven regions covering Oregon at http://www.oregonhealthrates.org/?pg=proposed_rates.html.

The charts show examples of rates because the amount a particular person pays depends on age, location, how many family members are on the plan, and plan choice. Tobacco use can increase the price of plans, too.

The proposed rates are for small group and individual coverage, which will affect about 10 percent of Oregonians.

"Oregon has one of the nation's most competitive health insurance markets, and one of its most rigorous and public rate reviews," Savage said. "We will be looking closely at what rates are justified in this reset of the market with new plans and new prices."

The division's rate website at www.oregonhealthrates.org links people to key documents, including a schedule for public hearings. Also, people can sign up for email notifications that alert them to rate filings, public hearings, and rate decisions.

CCC Hosts Annual Festival Latino

CCC Graduation Ceremonies June 13 and 14

Hundreds of Clackamas Community College students will mark graduation in two ceremonies in June. Students earning their General Educational Development (GED) and Adult High School Diploma will take part in the Thursday, June 13, graduation. Those completing degrees and certificates will be recognized in the Friday, June 14, ceremony.

Both ceremonies begin at 7 p.m. in the Randall Hall gym. Seating at the graduation ceremonies is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Doors to graduation open at 6:15 p.m. both nights and will close at about 6:45 or when the Randall Gym reaches capacity. Overflow viewing is available in the McLoughlin Auditorium.

Each graduation service recognizes a number of outstanding graduates, as well as friends of the college.

Participants in graduation are asked to register online to help college staff plan for the ceremonies. To register or get additional information about graduation, please visit the CCC graduation website at <http://www.clackamas.edu/Graduation/>

Dear Community,

Recently a small group of individuals have come together to form a group called the Friends of the Old White Carus Schoolhouse. This group has a shared interest in seeing the old Carus 'White Building' being restored to a state that would honor its history as a historic school building and allow the current community to use it as a resource. The group is investigating grants and other funding sources so as not to put a financial burden on the district or its patrons.

The Friends of the Old White Carus Schoolhouse

Survey Questions

1. What kind of uses would you like to see for the old Carus White Building?
2. Are there any clubs or group affiliations that you are a part of that might be able to use the White Building? If so, please list them.
3. As the renovation goes forward, do you have any resources which might be helpful?
4. Would you like to be apprised of any news or progress regarding the White Building? If so please include your name, phone and Email.

Please return the survey to the address below. Also, if you have any other questions or concerns, please contact:

Haggard-Looking Conifers Result of 2012 Dry Spell

Some Douglas-firs and other conifers in northwestern Oregon look noticeably haggard this spring, and concerned residents are asking why. As with most events in the long life of trees, the cause goes back a ways - in this instance, to last summer and fall.

"My best explanation is drought stress," said Brad Withrow-Robinson. "We had a pretty hard end of summer last year - No rain until mid-October - then, boom! It was winter."

The Oregon State University Extension forester explained that the lack of water stressed the trees. But because the dry conditions occurred late in the growing season, the effects didn't show up until now. People are seeing dead tree-tops and flared-out branches - classic signs of drought stress.

The recent warmer-than-average weather "seems to have made it more sudden and dramatic," he said.

While the Willamette Valley is idyllic for people, it can be a challenging environment for trees.

"Many of our soils in the valley are poorly drained, which is hard on most of our conifers, and other soils are fairly shallow and cannot hold much water," he said. "Also, our summers are hotter and drier than in the mountains."

These stressors lower trees' resistance to disease and pests.

Public Invited to Comment

Public invited to comment online on proposed Clackamas County transportation project priorities through June 15th.

The public is invited to participate in an online open house at www.clackamascountytsp.com to review and comment on proposed transportation project priorities for the next 20 years in unincorporated Clackamas County.

After more than a year of work on the Clackamas County Transportation System Plan (TSP) update, County residents, the TSP Public Advisory Committee and transportation experts identified more than 300 projects for roads, bridges, sidewalks and bikeways that will be needed by 2035 throughout unincorporated Clackamas County.

The objective of these projects is to help residents, business people and tourists travel safely, smoothly and reliably throughout the County.

Since funds will only be available for a small proportion of these projects, each project was evaluated and ranked based on vision, goals, objectives and evaluation criteria set last year by the Public Advisory Committee. On the basis of that evaluation, projects were prioritized into the following tiers:

Tier 1: 20-Year Capital Projects –Those that can reasonably be undertaken within current estimates of available funding (approximately $444 million over 20 years).

Tier 2: Preferred Capital Projects –Additional recommended projects the County hopes to undertake if additional funds become available (approximately $444 million over 20 years).

Tier 3: Long-Term Capital Projects –Almost all other projects identified during this process. Although funds are not expected to be available for these projects during the next 20 years, these projects are still needed to meet the County's projected transportation demands.

There are also a few projects recommended to be removed from the project list.

Maps and lists of the proposed projects and project priorities are available at the online open house, which is open through June 15. Additional information about the TSP update process is available on the project website at www.clackamascountytsp.com.

Bryn Seion Welsh Church's Singing Festival

You may have wondered about the little old white church on Kamrath Rd. It is the Bryn Seion (Mt. Zion) Welsh Church, which was founded in 1884 by Welsh immigrants, and is still active today. The love of singing old hymns in four-part harmony is a big part of the Welsh tradition. Bryn Seion holds an annual singing festival to honor this tradition.

This year the singing festival (or Gymanfa Ganu, in Welsh) will be held on June 23. It will start with a church service from 11 a.m. to noon, and continue with a singing session from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and another singing session from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m.

There will be a Tea at 4:00 p.m. held at the Grange across the street, for which a $10 donation is requested. Hymns are sung in English and in Welsh.

You don't have to speak Welsh to participate – a love

Careless Debris Burning Causes Numerous Wildfires

Wildfire managers across the State had their hands full during the hot, dry, and windy weekend ending May 5th. People burning debris were responsible for at least 36 of the 65 wildfires reported.

Keep Oregon Green Association is warning residents that burning debris on a windy day has tremendous potential for becoming Oregon's next wildfire.

lowed. Many districts have closed some or all of their protected lands.

A charged hose must reach to and all away around the burn pile. The 10-foot cleared area around the pile should be kept wet at all times. Use a shovel or rake handy. If burning is allowed, keep your burn pile small adding to it as it burns down. Stay with the fire at all times. Only yard debris is legal to burn - no garbage or lumber.

Once the debris is burned, soak the area of and around the burn. Check on it frequently to make sure no sparks remain.

Statement from Clackamas County Commission Chair John Ludlow on Outcome of Ballot Measure 3-424

"The voters of Clackamas County have sent a clear message regarding our involvement in the Portland-Milwaukie Light Rail project. This is an important step toward a final resolution," said Clackamas County Commission Chair John Ludlow.

"We are engaged in pending litigation brought by Tri-Met over these same issues. We look forward to receiving the legal clarity the court will no doubt provide in this matter," he said.

Oregon City Featured in National Report on City Leadership for Children and Families

The City of Oregon City is featured in a new report highlighting promising City efforts to improve the lives of children, youth and families in communities with populations below 75,000.

Published by the National League of Cities (NLC), "Municipal Leadership for Children and Families in Small and Mid-Sized Cities" describes innovative strategies from more than 40 cities and towns across the country. The report contains examples of City leadership in areas such as early childhood development, education, health and safety, family economic success, neighborhood revitalization, and youth civic engagement. Visit www.nlc.org/smallcities to view the report.

The City of Oregon City was selected for inclusion in the report for its collaboration with the Oregon City High School construction program and students engagement in City construction projects. Oregon City High School offers an advanced construction class that works on projects throughout the City - particularly at local parks - during class time, after school and on weekends. The program teaches students new skills and helps them give back to the community as they participate in every stage of the construction process. Students have helped build or refurbish City park bridges and walkways, a restroom and concession, volleyball courts, stairs at the municipal pool, and an outdoor event center.

"This has been a great opportunity for both the students and the City," said Scott Archer, Community Services Director. "We are proud of the work these students have accomplished and look forward to continuing our partnership with the school for future projects."

AMR Trains More Than 51,000 People How to Save Lives With Compression - Only CPR

On May 22, American Medical Response (AMR) health care professionals went coast-to-coast and trained more than 51,000 people on how to save a life using chest compression-only CPR (also known as Hands-Only CPR) as part of the first AMR World CPR Challenge. One hundred and forty AMR operations in 40 states as well as operations in Trinidad and Tobago and India participated in the day-long event.

AMR Operations in the Portland Metropolitan area and Josephine County in Oregon held sixteen events and trained 1328 people how to perform live-saving compression-only CPR. An additional 832 people were trained in Clark County on May 17th at a separate event last week bringing the total number of people trained locally to 2160.

Compression-only CPR performed by a bystander can more than double the survival rate of a cardiac arrest victim. "There's a strong chance that someone we trained this week will save a life in the future," said Randy Lauer, General Manager of Oregon Operations for AMR. "Training people to provide life-saving CPR is one way we can make an important difference in the community."

Participants in the event were trained to perform compression-only CPR in about five minutes by local AMR paramedics and EMTs.

ployment fraud in order to repay the debt. The Employment Department already has the authority to intercept State tax refunds; the new law gives the agency another method to recoup fraudulently collected benefits.

Unemployment insurance benefits are meant for individuals who are out of work through no fault of their own. Money for these benefits comes from the unemployment insurance trust fund, which is funded by Oregon employers.

Unemployment fraud frequently occurs when an individual claims benefits while working. When fraud is detected, the Oregon Employment Department works to collect the improperly paid benefits. If those collection efforts fail, the department now has the authority to intercept tax refunds.

Upon the passage of Senate Bill 259, the Employment Department mailed notices to 14,000 individuals who collectively owe $55 million due to unemployment insurance fraud. The notices give these individuals 60 days to make payment or prove they do not owe the money, or the debt will be referred to the US Department of the Treasury for collection.

The new law strives to give the Employment Department a powerful new tool to recapture benefits paid out because of fraud and return those funds to the unemployment insurance trust fund. This will contribute to the health of the trust fund, and protect Oregon employers' tax rates.

Oregon maintains one of the healthiest unemployment trust funds in the nation. During the most recent recession, 36 states' trust funds became insolvent causing those states to borrow money from the Federal Government in order to pay unemployment benefits. Oregon's trust fund remained solvent during this economic downturn; ensuring benefits were available to those who qualified, while containing the tax rates for Oregon employers.

Pioneer Roses of Old Clackamas County

The Oregon pioneers brought many useful items with them, including beautiful roses. Northwest Rose Historians Laura King and Kathleen McMullen will tell tales of Mary Drain Albros and Erica Calkins' efforts to collect old pioneer roses. Northwest Rose Historians located those roses and will relay the stories of the families who brought them to Oregon as well as their work with the Master Gardener project at the End of the Oregon Trail Pioneer Rose Garden.

Two years ago, Laura King and Kathleen McMullen founded Northwest Rose Historians which reintroduces heritage roses into community centers' public spaces in which these roses were first planted. This "living history" reinforces community identity and provides a sense of place while entrusting old garden roses and their stories to future generations.

Over 1,600 lbs of Prescription Drugs Collected During 'No-Questions- Asked 'Take-Back Day'

On Saturday, April 27, 2013, at two locations in Clackamas County, citizens dropped off a record number of old and unused prescription drugs for safe disposal as part of the annual "National Prescription Drug Take-Back Day," hosted by the DEA and the Clackamas County Sheriff's Office.

The two locations -- Happy Valley City Hall and the Clackamas County Public Safety Training Center -- accepted 1,645 pounds of prescription drugs from citizens, a new record for the local effort.

Flushing drugs into the water system is hazardous, so this is a safe way to keep medications out of the home and out of the water supply.

Hello Carus Community,

It's been a busy couple of weeks at Carus. We have been finishing up our first full round of OAKS testing for 3rd - 6th graders and have gotten into a second round for some students. Last week our 4th graders completed their 'Wagon Train Pull' completing their study of the Oregon Trail. Fifth graders completed their States Fair project and presented their projects to other grades and created games for kids to play as they viewed their project.

Kindergarten registration started May 1st. We are still hopeful that we could provide a tuition-paid full day option for next year. If you are interested, or know someone who might be, come in or send them in quickly! The decision point for being able to offer this is Monday.

Clackamas County Commissioners
OK Five Day "Business Week"
for Construction-Related Support Services

Clackamas County Commissioners have voted 3-2 to extend construction-related support services in certain County departments to a five-day business week.

Currently those departments operate on a four-day schedule for public access.

The decision extends to building codes, planning and zoning, code enforcement and other divisions within the Department of Transportation and Development (DTD) and other County divisions, such as Water and Environment Services, that provide support services for contractors and the public.

The volume of hours will likely not change significantly due to a decrease in demand but the public counters will be staffed on Fridays.

A more comprehensive proposal to expand the five-day work schedule to the entire County was defeated by a 3-2 vote.

The approved motion was an expansion of a vote last month extending public counter services to Friday within divisions of DTD, starting in July.

The motion was supported by Chair John Ludlow and Commissioners Paul Savas and Tootie Smith. Commissioners Jim Bernard and Martha Schrader opposed.

The proposal to expand the schedule countywide was supported by Chair Ludlow and Commissioner Smith and opposed by Commissioners Bernard, Schrader and Savas.

A transcript of the discussion can be found online at <http://www.clackamas.us/bcc/presentation.html>

Clackamas County initiated the four-day work week as a pilot project in 2008 and continued the program after the pilot period expired. The schedule allowed for additional hours of public service early in the morning and later in the afternoon.

The four-day schedule covers most County employees and agencies except for emergency personnel and other departments supporting five-day a week operations such as the District Attorney and for other services such as recording of property deeds.

The change for construction-related support services was slated to begin in July, but more information about the implementation of those expanded operations is still being gathered.

Dave Stuckey Named Director of Oregon Region Office of Emergency Management

Maj. Gen. Raymond F. Rees, The Adjutant General, Oregon, has appointed Dave Stuckey as Director of the Oregon Office of Emergency Management.

Stuckey has a long and established career in the military and emergency management. He served as Deputy Director of the Oregon Office of Emergency Management from April 2010 to June 2012. During that time he was part of three presidential declarations and multiple emergency response activations.

"It is great to be back supporting the communities in Oregon helping them prepare and respond to emergencies," Stuckey said.

Stuckey was instrumental in responding to the 2011 Oregon floods and was the Governor's Authorized representative and State Coordinating Officer in response to the tsunami resulting from the Japanese earthquake which occurred March 11, 2011.

The mission of the Oregon Office of Emergency Management is to maintain emergency response and recovery activities with the State and local emergency services agencies and organizations.

Clackamas Fire District #1 News

Message From the Board of Directors

The results of the May 21, 2013, election have been tabulated. Congratulations to John Blanton and Don Trotter! They are currently members of our Board of Directors and will continue in their positions for the next four years beginning July 1, 2013.

John was appointed to the Board in October 2013 to complete the term of Toby Forsberg who resigned. After the election, Director Blanton shared, "I am very grateful to the citizens of Clackamas Fire District #1 for their support in electing me to represent them as a member of their Fire District's Board of Directors. As a board member and their representative, I will continue to work closely with our Board of Directors and the Fire Chief to develop collaborative partnerships with the cities and communities we serve. In addition, we will continue to work with neighboring fire departments and special districts in our area through continued interagency agreements, so we can be more efficient in our ability to deliver fire and life safety services and continue to provide the highest level of service that our citizens and businesses deserve.

Our Fire District is served by one of the best teams of career and volunteer firefighters and support staff in the State. Together, Clackamas Fire District #1 will continue to serve the citizens of the Fire District, in providing the highest level of service that is expected by their first responders."

Don has served on the Board since June 2007 when he was appointed to the Board to fill the vacancy left by the passing of Director Tiny Lidstrom. After the election, Don shared, "As a re-elected Board member, I will continue to expend my time and energy to help ensure that the Fire District meets the needs of citizens, communities, employees and volunteers. I also look forward to working with other Board members, staff, volunteers and citizens to help us fulfill the Mission of our District, "To Safely Protect and Preserve Life and Property."

John and Don will be sworn in at the June 17, 2013, board meeting. The other three members of our Board, Thomas Joseph, Dave McTeague and Marilyn Wall have terms that will expire in 2015.

TriMet Grant Supports CCC's Green Line Shuttle

Clackamas Community College has been awarded a $30,000 grant from TriMet to support the Green Line Shuttle. The CCC Green Line Shuttle runs express service between the college's main campus in Oregon City and the MAX Green Line terminus at Clackamas Town Center.

The CCC grant is part of $683,513 in federal Job Access and Reverse Commute (JARC) monies awarded by the transit agency to nonprofit and government programs that connect low-income residents to jobs and job-related services.

The CCC Green Line Shuttle provides free express service for students and the public week days during the academic terms. It has been a popular service for students that is full during rush hours.

Seventy-two percent of incoming CCC students receive financial aid; slightly over half of these students live below the federal poverty level and 42 percent work more than 20 hours a week. The shuttle service provides a direct trip that is not available on TriMet and connects the MAX infrastructure to the under served area around CCC's Oregon City campus.

Shuttle service began on a trial basis in spring of 2010, through a partnership between the college, the Transportation Management Association, Clackamas County and Premiere Transportation. Towncenter Express (TX) proved successful with students, county employees and the public.

CCC has continued to fund the shuttle through a variety of grants and other funds. The annual cost of operation is $48,000.

My Name is
"CHELLA"
and I'm

Available for Adoption!

Hello... my name is "Chella" and I'm available for adoption. I'm an American Pit Bull Terrier.

I'm a 3 year old spayed female and I weigh approximately 60 to 100 lbs. As you can see I'm brindle and white in color.

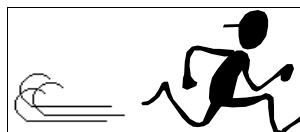

Here is what I have to say for myself!

"Hi there! You can call me Chella. I'm a quiet lady who is ready to join you on life's adventure. My soft brown eyes are looking for my perfect match. My keen ears are listening for your approach. I love to fetch the ball and bring it back to you. I'm such a lady, too, that I drop the ball politely at your feet. I hope you come visit me soon."

For more information on me or other dogs available for adoption, please call the shelter at 503-655-8628 or come by for a visit and a little one-on-one. You can also see us at the Clackamas County Dog Control website at:

<http://www.co.clackamas.or.us/dogs/adoptpet.php>

The shelter is located at 13141 S.E. Hwy 212 in Clackamas, Oregon. I'm available from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday thru Monday. I'd sure love to get the chance to meet you. "CHELLA"

See you next month...
The Editor!
