Residents of Holly Lane Not Allowed to Meet with DOGAMI

Residents of Holly Lane were to meet with DOGAMI (Oregon Department of Geology and Mineral Industries) in order to discuss the new risk assessment maps that were just released on landslides in the Oregon City area.

Management at DOGAMI however, felt it better for them to attend Bill Burn's presentation, that was held on May 8th, at the County Services Building rather than to have them meet with Mr Burns at the DOGAMI offices.

Bill Burns did give a presentation on May 8th, at the County Development Services Building, but for County and Oregon City personnel only. The public was unfortunately not able to attend this presentation. "It was a sold out crowd of 60 people who attended the event to see the latest on DOGAMI's Risk Maps." Christine Kosinski, Corresponding Secretary of the Hamlet of Beaver Creek, and Holly Lane resident said. "I'm excited that 60 personnel came to learn about Landslides and their risks, but I was hoping that some of us would have been able to attend."

Ms Kosinski had gone before the Oregon City Commission in February of this year, and requested they support a second Forum for the community on Landslides and Emergency Preparedness, however Oregon City has not yet indicated if such a program will be offered in the near future.

Ms. Kosinski attended the Oregon City Natural Resource Committee meeting on Wednesday, May 14th. She addressed the point that there is a need for Oregon City to complete their Landslide regulations, as promised since 2008, to include monitoring landslide areas for Low, Moderate and High Risk. Some of their members had requested Christine to present this information.

If you would like to see the video of the meeting with her presentation and the discussion that followed, please go to http://oregon-city.granicus.com/MediaPlayer.php?view_id=2&clip_id=1289. Her presentation begins at approximately 00:20:00 into the video.

Whether you have Welsh heritage or not, you will be very welcome at this Celtic cultural event.

It is not generally known, but a fact nevertheless, that part-singing had its origin and early development among the Cymry, or as the English called them - the Welsh.

It is indeed a pleasure to listen to four-part hymn singing. In Wales, the small village chapels nestled in the lovely green valleys were centers of religious and social life. After services the Welsh would linger in chapel and would continue to sing old hymns and practice new ones. This tradition continues at Bryn Seion (Mt Zion) Welsh Church in Beavercreek, Oregon.

The church was built in 1884 by Welsh immigrants and is still active today. People come from all over the Northwest for this song festival. Music fills the church and spills over to the shaded grounds. It is a full day and you can attend any or all of the activities.

Come early to get a seat in the church or listen outside. Some outdoor seating is provided, but there are no reserved seats. Be prepared for any kind of weather. Everyone is encouraged to participate in the singing.

For more information call: Janet Figini 971-295-4311 (OR); Gerri Baker Parry 206-524-0854 (WA)

www.brynseionwelshchurch.org

Church services are held at Bryn Seion every 2nd and 4th Sunday of the month at 11:00 a.m.

We warmly welcome all who wish to join us and enjoy the fellowship of God's gifts.

Thank You Beavercreek Rummage Sale Huge Success

In a word: WOW! Thank you one and all for the success of "The Ten O'Clock Church" Annual Rummage Sale & Lunch. It was our most successful sale ever! People were excited to see the large selection of collectables and vintage items and our sales totaled more than $7500. (The proceeds will help fund the church's many missions including the food pantry).

Special kudos go to Shelley & Greg Hettman and Josie & Lee Evans who were the event leaders. Thank you also to Norma Barney, who coordinated the delicious lunch, Jan Wallinder, who coordinated the volunteers, Kathy Lottmann, who handled the publicity and signs, and everyone else who donated items and volunteered many hours to make this such a great event.

We also want to thank BCT for the use of their big roadside signs and the Beavercreek Bulletin for helping us with the advertising.

But, most of all "Thank You" to all those community members who attended the sale. We couldn't have done it without you!

Approximately 1,600 lbs. Of Meds Collected in National Drug Take -Back Day

The April 26 no-questions-asked "Prescription Drug Take-Back" was an enormous success. Stats from the event include:

111 cars dropping off drugs for disposal at the event, held in the Kaiser Permanente parking lot next to Mt. Talbert Medical Clinic.

51 large boxes of meds collected from the Kaiser and Happy Valley City Hall drop-off locations.

This adds up to approximately 1,600 lbs. of collected medication.

Thanks to our community partners including Kaiser Permanente, Clackamas County Health, Housing & Human Services, Walgreens, and the Overland Coalition Against Drug Crime.

Clackamas County Declines to Participate in Public Sector Bid to Purchase Blue Heron Property

Clackamas County will not join with Metro and Oregon City in an effort to outbid a private developer for the former Blue Heron property.

Clackamas County Commissioners said there was not enough time to fully consider the financial impacts and structure of the bid proposal due by the closeness of the deadline to respond. The request to participate came in late Wednesday, April 23rd from Metro staff.

"It would normally take 30 to 60 days to negotiate the terms of a deal like this," said County Administrator Don Krupp.

The former Blue Heron site, which is located along the Willamette River in downtown Oregon City, was closed in February 2009. The property has been in bankruptcy for several years.

Clackamas County, Metro and Oregon City, along with other regional partners, have been working with a consulting firm to develop a concept plan in order to attract developers to the site. Clackamas County has invested $100,000 towards the visioning process with potential future financial assistance.

"The County remains committed to the vision for this site and the public partnership that has been working diligently over the last couple of years," said Commissioner Tootie Smith. "There just isn't enough time today to fully examine the commitment we are being asked to make."

A Washington State developer has submitted a $2.3 million offer to purchase the property from the bankruptcy trustee. An overbid would have to exceed that amount.

"Public sector support may be needed to spur redevelopment of the site," said Commissioner Martha Schrader. "I hope we can continue to work together to develop the right approach." The Willamette Falls Legacy concept plan can be viewed at www.rediscoverthefalls.com.

Thank You Beavercreek!

The members of the Beavercreek Grange would like to thank everyone who came to the Mother's Day breakfast on Sunday, June 11th.

The Mother's Day breakfast has always been a very popular event. This year there were a number of new faces in attendance as well as those not seen for awhile. It was great to see everyone on such a sunny day. In all, over 110 adults and children attended. The raffle that was held for the hanging basket was won by David Porter this year. In addition to the breakfast and raffle there was a cornucopia of baked goods that were sold as well as hand made items and other items. We hope you enjoyed the event as much as we enjoyed seeing and spending the day with you.

I am impressed with her depth of knowledge, her strong leadership, her commitment to customer service and her laser focus on the mission and objectives of her department and the County, said County Administrator Donald Krupp.

Cartmill has been a County employee since 1997 when she started as a land-use planner. She rose through the ranks to become Deputy Director from 2009-2013 before serving as acting director.

She has a Masters Degree in Urban and Regional Planning from Portland State University and an undergraduate degree in economics from PSU.

Clackamas County Veterans Service Office Honors New Office With Open House

The Clackamas County Veterans Service Office welcomed the community to its new location with an open house on Thursday, May 22.

Veterans, family members, and the public were invited to the open house, which began outside on the plaza of the Clackamas County Public Services Building, 2051

Kaen Road, Oregon City. Refreshments were served following a short ceremony.

The office is located on the second floor in the Public Services Building. The location is convenient to other services that veterans may choose to access and, with its ample sunlight, provides a welcoming environment for veterans of all generations.

The Clackamas County Veterans Service Office works to ensure that Clackamas County veterans and their families receive all State and Federal benefits available to them by providing expert, individualized representation that is free of charge.

Department Launches Consumer Advocacy Awareness Campaign

The Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services has launched a statewide awareness campaign for its insurance consumer advocacy services. Consumer advocates in the department's Insurance Division help consumers who have questions or problems with their insurance and recovered more than $1 million for Oregonians in 2013.

"We hope that by spreading the word across the State more Oregonians can take advantage of these valuable services," said Patrick Allen, director of the Department of Consumer and Business Services. "As an unbiased and official source of information, advocates can help consumers navigate the complexities of insurance policies, and if we find something wrong, we can take action on behalf of the consumer."

Funded by 13 separate multistate settlements with life insurance companies, outreach efforts will focus on helping Oregonians understand the resources available to them to help resolve insurance problems. The campaign includes advertisements - such as billboard and transit, TV, newspaper, and digital - as well as community engagement. The division will be speaking to communities around the State about its services and providing information to community organizations. To watch the TV ad, go here: <http://youtu.be/aEYIbHRE2Y0>

The Insurance Division's consumer advocates are highly experienced in insurance issues and are available at no charge to help consumers with questions or problems related to auto, health, homeowner, life, or other types of insurance policies. Advocates can help explain complex policies, mediate miscommunications with insurance companies, and escalate issues that need further investigation.

Consumer advocates can be reached toll-free at 888-877-4894 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday, and also via email, cp.ins@state.or.us. The division's website, <http://www.insurance.oregon.gov>, has more information about a variety of insurance topics.

Bryn Seion Church Plans Landscaping Improvements

The Goal: Beautiful Landscape

Bryn Seion sits on an acre with Parrot Creek running through the back. Efforts have been ongoing for four years (keeping in mind sound budgeting practices) to develop the grounds to provide further sanctuary and respite for its attendees. The most obvious change most will notice is that the big Douglas fir has been removed from the front of the church. It was too big, too close, and becoming diseased. The ring count on the tree did not go back far enough to be claimed 'historical.'

A new high-powered electric mower has been purchased and it is incredibly easy to use.

The creek area has been 50% removed of invasive species, especially the Himalayan blackberry and English ivy.

In addition, skunk cabbage, wapato, wild currant, hemlock, grand fir, elderberry, cascara, and native vine leaf maples have been donated and more than half of these are thriving.

Our goal is to build on the natural beauty of the grounds; to become a little jewel for Bryn Seion members, attendees, and the community of Beavercreek. Many people have donated time to further this goal. Megs Lloyd Patton, Grounds Chair.

a mix of flowers in bloom, next to dead grass and the remains of last summer's annuals. As you begin spring clean-up, please consider chipping or recycling your yard debris. But if burning is your only option, here are some tips to prevent that debris burn from becoming Oregon's next wildfire:

- Call before you burn - If you're planning to burn, check with your local Oregon Department of Forestry district, fire protective association or air protection authority to learn if there are any current burning restrictions or regulations, and whether a permit is required. Fire officials may designate certain days for burning based on weather and wind conditions. In Beavercreek call 503-632-0211

- Know the weather forecast - Never burn on dry or windy days. When conditions are windy or dry, it is easy for open burning to spread out of control.

- Clear a 10-foot radius around your pile - also make sure there are no tree branches or power lines above.

- Keep your burn pile small - A burn pile is less likely to escape control if it is kept small. A large burn may cast hot embers long distances. Add debris in small amounts as existing material is consumed.

- Always have water and fire tools on site - When burning, have a charged water hose, bucket of water, and shovel and dirt or sand nearby to extinguish the fire. If you used sand or dirt to knock down a fire, go back and drown the pile with water, stir the coals, and drown again. Repeat until the fire is DEAD out.

- Attend your burn at all times - A burn left unattended for only a few minutes can grow into a costly, damaging wildfire. Monitoring a debris burn continually from start to finish until dead out is required by State law, to ensure that any escaped sparks or embers can be extinguished quickly.

- NEVER use gasoline or other accelerants (flammable or combustible liquids) to start or increase your open fire. Every year, 55-60 percent of all burns treated at the Oregon Burn Center in Portland are the result of backyard debris burning.

- Make sure it's out - Completely extinguish your debris burn before leaving. Go back and recheck old burn piles, as they can retain heat for several weeks and rekindle when the weather warms and wind begins to blow.

- Burn ONLY yard debris - Some plastics, treated lumber and other manufactured products give off toxic fumes when burned. State regulations prohibit the open burning of any material that creates dense smoke or noxious odors.

- Escaped debris burns are costly - State law requires the proper clearing, building, attending and extinguishing of open fires any time of year. A first-time citation carries a $110 fine. If your debris burn spreads out of control, you are responsible for the cost of fire suppression and very likely the damage to neighboring properties. This can range from a few hundred to thousands of dollars. ODF spent over $190,000 in 2013 on fires caused by debris burning.

"I encourage homeowners to consider all other options to dispose of their yard waste prior to choosing debris burning," cautions Interim Oregon State Fire Marshal Jim Walker. "Every year, there are a number of fires caused by debris burning, even when done by the most well-intentioned homeowners."

More tips on wildfire prevention, including campfire safety, motorized equipment use, and fire-resistant landscaping can be found on the Keep Oregon Green site, <http://keeporegongreen.org/>.

Message from the Fire District Board of Directors

The following took place at the April 21, 2014 Board of Directors' meeting:

Emergency Manager Gregg Ramirez gave a presentation regarding earthquake Preparedness. When the earthquake begins, we are to drop, cover and hold on. When it stops, make sure you are OK, check on family members/coworkers, assist mobility challenged individuals, evacuate to designated rally point and prepare for aftershocks. To prepare for an earthquake, we can be informed, build a kit, make a plan, get trained and get involved. He also discussed landslides and their cause in light of the Oso, Washington landslide.

The Board approved the following:

- Board of Directors' Updated Policy Manual.
- Three-year term renewal of Rob Wheeler to the District's Budget Committee.
- Appointment of Ian Wigner as the new Budget Committee member to fill the two-year term vacancy.
- Appointment of William Gifford as the new Budget Committee member to fill the three-year term vacancy.
- Proclamation 14-01 designating May 18-24, 2014, as EMS Week.
- Intergovernmental agreement for advanced life support (ALS) emergency medical system integration

Happy Valley Police Arrest Man on Multiple Theft by Deception Charges

At 11 a.m. on Tuesday, May 13, 2014, the Happy Valley Police, working with other agencies, served a search warrant at 11056 SE Hilltop Ct. in Happy Valley. Following the warrant service, deputies arrested Michael Andrew Brennan, age 50, on three counts of Theft 1 by Deception. Brennan is alleged to have committed food-stamp fraud, defrauded his disabled father-in-law, and accepted charitable donations for a charitable organization without 501(C)(3) status. Happy Valley Police are looking for additional possible victims; tips are sought.

Authorities believe Michael Brennan had been accepting donations through a website and Facebook page, both titled "Saving America's Heroes" -- telling donors that proceeds went to the "Matthew M. Brennan Foundation ... a 501 (C) (3) non-profit organization ... for America's soldiers." However, no such 501 (C) (3) filing exists.

On Michael Brennan's www.savingamericasheroes.org webpage -- since taken down but archived online here: <https://web.archive.org/web/20130719073215/http://www.savingamericasheroes.org>

Michael Brennan and his wife Maria Brennan wrote that the foundation had been created to help soldiers with PTSD, and had been founded in honor of their late son Matthew Brennan, an Oregon Army National Guard veteran who committed suicide in 2011 at age 22. A 2011 Oregonian story on the Brennans can be found here: http://blog.oregonlive.com/oregonatwar/2011/08/the_life_and_death_of_an_orego.html

Authorities have found evidence that funds and services donated to "Saving America's Heroes" did not go toward the stated mission of the website.

Authorities also allege that Brennan stole money from his father-in-law -- a 65-year paraplegic -- taking money from the victim's bank account and using it for personal purchases.

Brennan also allegedly convinced multiple local contractors to donate remodeling services to the Happy Valley home in the name of the Matthew M. Brennan Foundation,

Festival Latino Connects Spanish Speakers with CCC

The sixth annual Festival Latino will take place on Saturday, June 7, at Clackamas Community College from noon to 4:30 p.m. The festival brings a variety of community and resources to the Latino community.

The free event includes music, food, health and financial resources, soccer and an introduction to the college through inspirational speakers and tours. Organizer Camilo

Sanchez, who teaches CCC's Spanish GED program, said the festival is an opportunity to introduce the Latino community to the college and other important community resources.

"We see more interest in the festival every year. We are committed to continuing to improve this event for the Latino community," Sanchez said.

Entertainment at this year's festival includes the popular Ballet Folklorico, mariachi singer Stephanie Martinez, Azteca dancers, Colombian dance and salsa dancing. This year's annual soccer match will pit the "Anglos vs. Latinos," Sanchez said. Cinco de Mayo restaurant will be on site with traditional Mexican food to purchase.

The festival takes place at the college's Gregory Forum in Oregon City.

Tenth Annual CCC Student Film Festival To Be Held June 10

The 10th annual Clackamas Film Festival, featuring the best work of students in the college's Digital Media Communications (DMC) program, will take place on Tuesday, June 10. Work ranges from dramatic narratives and experimental films to animation work and short motion capture animations.

The film festival is hosted by the Clackamas Community College's DMC program and takes place in the McLoughlin Auditorium. The program begins at 6:00 p.m. This event is open to the public, and there is no cost to attend. Due to some strong language and adult content, viewer discretion is advised.

Bulletin Editor Recognized by Clackamas County Grange

On March 30, 2014, Sharon Charlson, Editor of the Beavercreek Bulletin, attended the Annual Awards Dessert event at Eagle Creek Grange along with members of Beavercreek Grange #276.

During the program awards were made by The Clackamas County Pamona Grange to various Granges in the County as well as to individual Grange members.

The Beavercreek Grange won a "Membership Award." Bud Dumolt, longtime member of the Beavercreek Grange, won the "Farmer of the Year Award" along with Jason Carroll from Molalla Grange #310. The Grange also won a "Grange Builder Award" for community service and membership activities, etc.

David Porter from the Beavercreek Grange won the "Volunteer of the Year Award" along with Howard Huey, Abernathy Grange #346 and Jessie Huber, Molalla Grange #310.

There were two awards for "Community Recognition." One was won by Kirsten McNeil, from Clarkes Grange #261. The other, by Mrs. Charlson. Mrs. Charlson is not a Grange member, but her husband Brad is. She was nominated for the award by the members of Beavercreek Grange #276 for her dedication and the vital and important role she plays in the community.

Water Environment Services Wins Awards for Financial Reporting

Water Environment Services, on behalf of Clackamas County Service District No. 1 and Tri-City Service District, has received the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association.

Each district was awarded The Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting for their respective annual financial reports. The reports are judged by an impartial panel which recognizes government agencies that demonstrate a constructive spirit of full disclosure to com-visitors to County parks are reminded that personal items taken into the parks are subject to visual inspection and possession of alcohol is prohibited except in designated areas with a permit.

This 2013 ordinance change has led to positive changes along stretches of the Clackamas River according to a video produced by Clackamas County and its partners.

The video features interviews from property-owners on the Clackamas River and Clackamas County Sheriff's Office Marine Unit officer Sgt. Steve Thoroughman, discussing positive changes on the river after the Board of County Commissioners (BCC) amended the Parks Ordinance last August.

A Cleaner Clackamas River was produced earlier this year as an internet video and is currently airing on the Clackamas County Government Channel. This summer the County and community-based organizations are

CCC Partners to Promote STEM Education

Clackamas Community College will partner with local high schools and other colleges and universities to increase access to science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) opportunities through an Oregon Education Investment Board (OEIB) grant. Focus areas for CCC include health sciences, manufacturing technology and engineering. The activities will result in more STEM dual credit courses for high school students in the CCC district.

The South Metro-Salem Partnership is one of six regional STEM Hubs in Oregon, funded under Gov. John Kitzhaber's strategic investment program to emphasize STEM opportunities for students and connecting to high-demand careers. The partnership formed to encourage Oregon students to achieve STEM degrees and certificates, and reach Oregon's education goals by increasing the access and engagement of students in STEM courses and experiential learning.

The STEM Hub designation is accompanied by a $600,000 grant to implement the partnerships three key strategies:

- Creating a STEM Learning Community of teachers and community partners to share effective instructional practices and integrate science and engineering work samples into common core standards, with contextualized, experience-based teaching and learning methods.
- Building a "STEM NETwork" of mentors, programs and events that inspire students and sponsors to highlight the value of STEM activities to the classroom, and utilize the region's rich industry and community resources.
- Expand accelerated credit collaborations between schools, colleges and universities to raise student achievement through dual credits, advanced placement, and incentives to attract students into STEM degree paths.

Partnership co-chairman Craig Hudson from Garmin AT in Salem expressed, "Our STEM partnership includes 126,000 students, and this funding will allow us to con-

Clackamas Reparatory Theatre Launches New Website

It has been said that you shouldn't judge a book by its cover, but in this case, we say go for it! During this year's fundraiser, our marketing partner, Counterform, unveiled our new branding strategy, which included a variety of new materials – a redesigned logo, promotional show material, building signage, and plans for a new website! Today, we are happy to announce that the curtain has finally opened, and our website is donning a sparkly new costume! Visit clackamasrep.org to see for yourself!

available for Adoption!

Hello... my name is "Tia" and I'm available for adoption.
I'm a Shih-Tzu/Mix.

I'm a 5.5 year old spayed female and I weigh approximately 10 to 30 lbs. As you can see I'm black and white in color with folded ears.

Here is what I have to say for myself!

"Tiny Tia - that's me! I am little and lively and likeable.
My tail wags like a flag to show how friendly I am. I love to play ball and retrieve like a lab. I will need consistent grooming to stay beautiful. I love attention but older respectful children would be best for me. Come see sweet little me today!

For more information on me or other dogs available for adoption, please call the shelter at 503-655-8628 or come by for a visit and a little one-on-one. You can also see us at the Clackamas County Dog Control website at:

<http://www.clackamas.us/k9man/adoptpet.jsp>

The shelter is located at 13141 S.E. Hwy 212 in Clackamas, Oregon. I'm available from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday thru Monday. I'd sure love to get the chance to meet you. "TIA"
