Beavercreek - First Hamlet in the State of Oregon

Well... it is finally official! Beavercreek is the first Hamlet in the State of Oregon. This follows the approval of the "village" designation for the "Villages of Mt. Hood" that was approved in May 25, 2006.

The Clackamas County Board of Commissioners voted to approve the application submitted by the community of Beavercreek on Thursday, September 21, 2006 at their 10:00 a.m. meeting.

This approval is the final step in a long process that began several years ago.

The idea of Hamlets and Villages came out of the Complete Communities program implemented by the County Commisssioners. Complete Communities was begun to address the pleas from the residents of Clackamas County to have a voice and a place at the table during decision making that affected their lives.

Beavercreek wanted to be proactive as opposed to reactive. The residents were tired of not being notified or included in discussions that were ongoing by legally recognized entities such as Oregon City, Metro, etc.

Members of the Beavercreek Community Planning Organization, aka CPO, gave testimony before the Oregon City Commission requesting that the CPO be notified when issues that directly affected the community were being planned and Beavercreek be allowed to sit at the table during the decision making process. The commission stated that they would consider doing it as a courtesy, but did not want to be obligated to do so.

However, Oregon City did absolutely nothing to include Beavercreek or recognize the residents of Beavercreek when it came to input on items that actually affected the Beavercreek area.

Hopefully, now that we are a legally recognized "Hamlet", Oregon City and other governmental bodies will begin to include us in the process. It should not be too much to ask and has been a long time coming!

NATALIE O. ESSIG

A memorial service was be held at 11:00 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 24, at the 10 O'Clock Church in Beavercreek for Natalie O. Essig of Oregon City, formerly of Eugene, who died Aug. 20 of age-related causes. She was 91.

The memorial celebration took place in the church sanctuary. The little church was packed with people sitting in the aisle, in the choir loft and standing in the back and down the entry steps. Close to 130 peoplefamily and friends—laughed and cried and thanked God for Natalie's long life (almost 92 years) and her many, many years of devotion to her church.

Natalie loved God with a passion and was always especially happy when in church or involved in church activities. She was an inspiration and a blessing to many, including her pastor. She will be missed!

Her son Marc and his wife Nancy continue as members and we pray son Don, who lives in Eugene, and daughter "young" Natalie, a member of the Oregon City. Remembrances to Beavercreek United them all.

At the May 30, 1938, meeting a motion was made and passed that those who paid for the church originally should be refunded the money from the sale of the church, on a pro-rata basis. Those who received refunds were Mr. William Daniels, $5.52; Mr. Charles Menke, $5.52; Mr. Henry Hughes, $5.52; Mrs. William Moehnke, $3.68; Mr. William Martin, $1.84; Mrs. Grisenthwaite and Mrs. Nellie Liman, $3.68. The old church building stood unused for many years and it was eventually dismantled and moved to the Colton area, where it was reassembled and used for its original purpose.

In 1942, the County wanted to widen the curve of the road and were given permission to proceed where trees needed to be trimmed and a portion of the cemetery cut away. They were, of course, to avoid disturbing any of the existing graves.

In 1959, the Association voted to have a cyclone fence erected along the roadway at a cost of $255.44; then in 1960, the fence was completed along the south end of the property. At two different times it was damaged by cars crashing through the fence and carrying the fence well into the cemetery and upsetting some grave markers. It was decided to build a barrier along the outside of the south line fence; and William (Bill) Roberts, a member of the Board of Trustees, felled some trees, trimmed, cut to length and peeled them, sank some husky poles into the ground upon which he placed equally husky logs, and painted them with reflecting paint in an effort to prevent a repeat performance at some later date. Bill performed this job without assistance, except the help of a borrowed tractor, courtesy of Cecil McKay.

In 1961, when the cost of everything was soaring, the Association voted to instruct the Secretary to inquire whether we could legally charge for burial plots. It was a time when a very small percentage of those having family members interred here were contributing to the upkeep of the cemetery. Until the early 1920's, the care of the cemetery was done on a voluntary basis. From that time, a caretaker was hired and paid-in the beginning, $20 per year, and gradually as the services were improved, the fee has climbed little by little until at the present time the caretaker is paid $360. At its annual meeting, fees were assessed by vote of the patrons, at first from whatever one was disposed to give, and then ranging from $2.59 to $5.00 per year.

In 1976, it was thought necessary to make water available at the cemetery because people had been bringing water from home for the flowers. A Board member was appointed to meet with Clairmont Water District to see if arrangements could be made to have them supply water; and while the Water Board was agreeable, their attorney advised them that favored treatment to us not be granted, citing that some schools had already been turned down. While the Haggenmiller family had furnished water from a hose into a barrel for given the option to purchase a stock certificate for $50 a few years, the Association had sought to make some permanent arrangement for the convenience of the patrons. It was the Haggenmillers who continued to supply the water, although plastic pipe was installed by Earl Robinson, William Roberts, and Ted Watts along the driveway through the cemetery with several stand pipes in convenient places.

There was further discussion during 1979 concerning the forming of a corporation; Ivan Menke and Catherine Edmark were instructed to contact an attorney to find out what the procedures were to accomplish the incorporation of the Association. Ivan and Catherine did most were sent to an attorney for the corrections.

- "(1) Any plot purchased before May 24, 1980, is within the following two years, while from that date forward all certificates will cost $100 and are to be sold when plots are purchased. No plot will be sold without the purchase of a stock certificate.
- (2) To those who have previously reserved plots, a notice will be sent informing them that they have the privilege of acquiring their stock certificates at the price of $50 and asking that payment be made for same." Lost Lake Road Closed for Improvement Work

Effective Monday, Sept. 11, 2006, the Lost Lake Road that provides access to Lost Lake from Henry Rierson Spruce Run Campground will be closed for repair work until further notice. During the closure, travelers will still be able to access the lake via Highway 26 and Quartz Creek Road.

Travelers on Quartz Creek Road are advised that timber harvest and road building are underway there, and they should be mindful that trucks and heavy equipment are using the road. For those carrying CB radios, signs will be posted along the road noting the CB channels to use to monitor truck traffic.

Lost Lake is located about three miles northeast of Spruce Run Campground. More information on the Lost Lake Road closure may be obtained by calling Larry Sprouse at the Oregon Department of Forestry office in Astoria, 503-325-5451.

Letter To the Editor

After reading the September Bulletin, I just had to write to congratulate you on 8 years (96 issues) of the Beavercreek Bulletin.

Being a local home and business owner, I have found the Bulletin informative, interesting and fun. It has given me a sense of history, community and of our future.

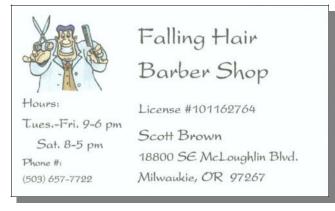

I'd also like to congratulate the entire community of Beavercreek for being Oregon's first recognized Hamlet... what exciting times we live in.

In conclusion, in this era of "too much to do with too little time or energy to get it done," it is refreshing to find the commitment and fortitude to our community and its future as from our Editor, Sharon Charlson. Thank you so much Sharon for all you do month after month!!!

The 1st community fundraiser for the Beavercreek Community Park was held on Thursday, September 21st at Stone Creek Golf Club.

"The golf tournament was very successful" stated Paul pear for this court appearance in Clackamas County Hauer, board member of the Beavercreek Charitable Circuit Court. Trust. There were 112 players entered and 60 raffle prizes were awarded including the grand prize, a 5 night has been issued for Mr. Olmstead's arrest. trip to Cabo San Lucas Mexico, won by Daniell Cheremnov playing for the team from Mattress World.

"It was a great fund raiser for our first event and we look forward to making this an annual golf tournament. The funds raised will allow the trust to hire a grant writer and begin soliciting large grants for the park project. Each golfer received a box lunch and a BBQ dinner along with a bag of golf paraphernalia from the head line sponsor, West Coast Bank. Look for the new branch of West Coast Bank at the intersection of Highway 213 and Clackamas Community College in late 2006."

County's permit department and how difficult the process could be. So when I mentioned that I was going to build a storage shed that would require a permit on my property, everyone I talked to tried to warn me about the problems I'd have and suggested that I just go ahead and built it without all the hassle.

Well, I didn't foresee any issues... I was going to build a quality building, not a shanty type affair, so what did I have to worry about?

I did my homework, made sure I got permission from the members of my homeowners association, went to the County website and checked the ZDOs and went to Sunnybrook Blvd building to get my permit.

All went well at the beginning. got through Planning, Engineering, Soils and then on to Permits. Here is where I ran into a stone wall.

My storage building was going to be larger Within 20 minutes of than most (16 ft x 24 residence... access to 10 ft) and was not going Lakes and ponds for you to be on a foundation, and your family to fish. but on blocks and Also, further access to 18 pressure treated lum- river properties and an ber. But, since these additional 15 stillwaters are placed throughout as well as other the state and I was getting a permit, I didn't think there would problem. WRONG!!!

I live in a wooded subdivision. You have to get permission to remove trees. Even though I have more than an acre, my property has limited space for structures due to a flood plain, replacement drain field and the for mentioned greenery not to mention the water, electric, cable, etc. You know... all the modern amenities.

Because my site is in the trees I did not want to add insult to injury. I was already putting my building on the trees' roots. I did not want to cover the roots with cement. I found a company who builds very respectable sheds that do not require a concrete foundation Great! I thought. Wrong again!

The permit department would not give me a permit because they didn't like the idea of my building not being on a foundation. The building was to be anchored with mobile home tie-downs, but the County was worried that my property might experience a 100 MPH wind for 3 seconds and blow my building onto my neighbors property. No one seemed to comprehend that the building could go no where. If my property experienced this 100 MPH wind my neighbor's trees and mine would crush my building and probably my garage and home too not to mention me.

I offered to add more tie-downs (each rated at 6,000 pounds), but to no avail. I got in touch with the only gentleman who supposedly could help me, the head of the building department. He said what I wanted to do was not prescriptive (wasn't explicitly in the code). I explained that the company that builds the building I wanted does them all over the state and in Washington. He said he'd look into it. I decided to be proactive and get him the proof he needed. I called two days later and left him a message telling him to call the Marion County Building Department and to also talk to the inspector that had just inspected and approved a building just like the one I wanted to build. Guess what, he never called me back. Not even after two more attempts to talk to him. So I told the County "fine, I'll build two buildings 16 ft. x 12 ft. each. They will be less than 200 sq. ft. and I don't need to get your permission."

Now I'm building the two buildings. These will give me the same square feet that I wanted in the first place. No permit, no hassles! The County loses out on the $200.00 permit fee and these buildings do not require tie-downs of any kind! Go figure! To my way of thinking the larger building with tie-downs would have been a safer way to go if anyone was really interested in wind issues. My personal opinion is that the County hides behind the code when convenient, but on the other hand does not enforce the code that is already on the books. The Editor

Friends.

I hope you have had a good summer. Seems like it just started. Now it's past Labor Day, and most kids are back in school. I've been busy this summer, but still managed to see some family and get some sun.

The Emergency Board met again in June, but after the special session there wasn't much appetite or ability for additional spending. The Board set aside $3 million for caseload increases in early intervention and early childhood special education. It released $2.5 million to several agencies to implement Measure 37 land claims. Sure nice of the ballot measure writers to give us yet another unfunded mandate. It also set aside $500,000 for coastal fishermen hit hard by federal closure of most all fishing along our once great fishing coast. That left us with about $11 million of our $30 million general purpose emergency fund. That $11 million will have to be our anchor for pending lawsuits, more unfunded caseload increases, fire costs, and other emergencies until the end of our fiscal year in

The Board also released money set aside last session from our special purpose emergency fund for negotiated wage and salary agreements for public employees and university faculty, for the primary election voter's pamphlet, and local option equalization grants. We heard some 59 other reports regarding federal, other funds. lottery budget adjustments, reclassifications, property sales, and non-taxpayer funded capital construction.

My Joint Legislative Audit Committee met in July to review performance measures of several agencies. The Legislature directed these agencies to come before the Audit Committee for further review since there were problems during session. The good news is that most of these agencies now seem to understand what an out- outcome is to the Small Business Development Center come is. We are seeking outcomes that you and I would expect to see as a result of an agency's efforts with our now will have information from SBDC that tells us how tax money. For a long time, agencies thought that just businesses SBDC has helped have stayed in business outputs, like number of contacts or students served, would suffice. We are interested in whether those served are off welfare or graduating, etc. The downside is that there seems to be a proliferation of measures one for each legislator or agency director, it seems.

The message the Audit Committee sent was that less is more. Let's stick to high-level key performance measures to judge the good use of our dollars. Other data can be kept for internal information needs. Hopefully, the Oregon University System, Oregon Health and Science University, Community Colleges, Oregon Student Assistance Commission, Division of State Lands, Department of Land Conservation and Development and a few others will be ready for next session.

The small boards and commissions reported on creation of a common best practices matrix that we will use to assure Oregonians and board clients that these small regulatory boards are operating efficiently. And finally, the Bureau of Labor and Industries and Oregon Economic and Community Development Department reported on exciting initiatives to streamline building efforts in our state. The Bureau is attempting predeterminations on whether or not a job requires prevailing wage payment so businesses can more accurately bid and profit from projects.

The OECDD has effectively communicated what an leadership. Although that has been a challenge, we compared to small businesses that haven't used SBDC services. Hopefully, OECDD work to streamline and eliminate archaic regulations will improve the working environment in Oregon in the future.

Comprehensive Fiscal Reform Package

Please see my website at http://www.leg.state.or.us/ schrader. Under NEWS you will find, "The Economy is Strong, So Why Do We Feel So Bad About The Direction Our State Is Heading?" dated September 6, 2006. This is the bipartisan Comprehensive Fiscal Reform Package that I and several of my legislative colleagues have been promoting. It revolutionizes how we budget, collect, spend and save your tax dollars. By doing performance- and outcome-based budgeting, having a more transparent and less political budget process, using the kicker to build an adequate rainy day fund, implementing revenue restructuring that promotes the economy, and reducing wild revenue swings for more consistent and sustainable spending, we can create 41,000 jobs, get others to pay their fair share of the tax burden, and actually make some targeted investments without raising taxes. This is the discussion we should be having next session.

It's an honor to serve you here in District 20. I look forward to the 2007 Legislative Session beginning January 8, and hope that you will let me know your thoughts on the issues that are important to you. Together we can continue to make a positive difference for all Oregonians.

I wish you all a warm autumn, and good times with family and friends.

Sincerely.

Senator Kurt Schrader

Clackamas County Hires Christine Roth as Staff Support for the Hamlet and Village Program

Clackamas County has hired Christine Roth of Lake Oswego to provide staff support for the Village and Hamlet program. The program evolved from the award-winning Complete Communities project that began in 1999 to promote more direct citizen involvement in local government.

Christine is a longtime citizen activist whose interests include civic involvement and community participation. She has been involved in local government for the past 15 years and has served as a volunteer for local, county, Metro and state committees and task forces. She is a graduate of University of Texas at San Antonio and has lived in Clackamas County for 17 years.

Currently, there is one Hamlet (Beavercreek) and one Village (The Villages at Mount Hood) that are formed and active. Government Camp, Mulino and Stafford are in the process of deciding whether to form either a Hamlet or Village. Christine will be responsible for communication with and support of the citizen groups and newly formed Village and Hamlet boards.

PARENT/TEACHER GROUP NEWS

Looking for a safe, warm & dry place to take your kids "trick or treating"? Clarkes School is the place & Friday October 27th is the day for the annual Trick or Treat Street! Bring donations of candy to the school office to help make this a successful event for your kids; all students in grades K-5 are welcome to participate. Watch for more details about how you can help!

Highlights from our PTG meeting on Sept 18, 2006

It was decided that Judy Whittaker will be our treasurer for 2006-07.

Crisis Kits-Replacements need to be made this year for some items. Teachers are getting their lists together to turn into the PTG.

Open House - It was decided to serve a dinner at open house. It will be hot dogs, chips, grapes, cookies, punch, and coffee. PTG will have a table at open house for new members to sign up. When you pay membership you will be entered in a drawing for a $50.00 gift certificate to Applebees. We will also have sign-ups for upcoming activities that we need volunteers for. Each volunteer who signs up will be entered in a drawing for prizes.

Cookie Dough Sale - We plan to send home packets 9/29 to kick off our annual cookie dough sale. Watch for details.

Wreath Sale –Because this is such a popular service, we plan to sell wreaths again this year for a fundraiser. Details soon.

will be available at the PTG table during Open House. 50% of the profit from the pavers goes directly to the upkeep & beautification of the Garden.

Trick or Treat Street - Will be on Friday, Oct 27th. Volunteer sign-up will be at Open House. This year will be new and exciting. We need a lot of volunteers to make this event fun for the kids and make it run smoothly. Please sign-up to help and be entered into a drawing for prizes.

New Ideas for 2006-07 - Day of the Kids/Carnival will be scheduled in the spring. It was brought up to have a cookbook made up of receipts that kids will eat and sell for a fundraiser. An auction night was talked about for a fundraiser also.

The Clarkes Parent/Teacher Group meets the 3rd Monday of each month from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in the Clarkes School Library.

Volunteer Corner

Thank you to Marcy Martin for helping in the office again this year! Volunteers will be needed to "man" the book fair the week of October 23rd thru the 27th. Call Jennifer in the Library or sign up in the office to work morning, afternoon or all day.

Beavercreek Fall Festival and Marketplace

Beavercreek United Church of Christ will host its Eighth Annual Fall Festival and Country Marketplace on Saturday, October 14, 2006. A gathering of talented area artisans and vendors will offer a variety of quality, hand-crafted items for sale, starting at 9:00 a. m. and continuing until 3 a.m.

To get to the Festival, go South on Beavercreek Road about 2 miles beyond Beavercreek, to 10 O' Clock Hill. Follow the signs to 23345 S. Beavercreek Road.

Along with the artisans' wares, there will be a children's activity studio (Angels in Action), where faces and pumpkins will be painted, and cookies will be frosted and eaten.

Shopping is hard work we all know, so you can take a break and enjoy coffee, tea, a sweet treat or even lunch at "The Garden of Eatin'", hosted by the 10 O' Clock Women's Fellowship. A certain pie maker received a marriage proposal from a very satisfied customer at a previous Festival!

The "Blessed Temptations" bakery table will also be filled with tasty sweets, preserves and baked goods to take home and share with the family. Pick up a copy of mas Soil and Water Conservation District. Patti exthe church cookbook, a collection of mouth-watering recipes from the kitchens of the 10 O' Clock Church cooks, who are known for fabulous home cooking!

You won't want to miss the "Heavenly Harvest Table", packed with jams, jellies and goodies from the gardens of folks blessed with green thumbs.

The "Divine Creations" table will offer hand-crafted brought by Clair Klock. items created by talented church members.

Proceeds from the Fall Festival will go to fund mission work, youth programs, the building fund and other church activities.

You will find treasures galore at the Festival! Bring your friends, neighbors, and relatives and join the folks at the "10 O' Clock" Church for a great time!

Bring Your Ideas for the Beavercreek Road Concept Plan

What: A community design workshop to create ideas for land uses, parks, streets and other amenities within the Beavercreek Road Concept Plan Area.

When: 10:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. Saturday, October 7th. Where: Oregon City High School, 19751 Beavercreek Rd, Oregon City

Why: Your participation will help Oregon City prepare a comprehensive land use plan that will help guide future growth and development of the 434-acre urban growth boundary expansion area in the City of Oregon City.

The Beavercreek Road Concept Plan will consider issues related to service provision, locations of parks and community facilities, the development of a transportation system and zoning.

The concept planning process with occur between May 2006 and May 2007. The final plan will be adopted as an ancillary document to the City of Oregon City's Comprehensive

Beavercreek Hamlet Spotlight

The first meeting for the newly formed Hamlet of Beavercreek took place on Wednesday, September 27, 2006, at the Beavercreek Grange on Kamrath Rd at 7:00 p.m. with 26 residents and guests in attendance.

The guest speaker was Patti Jarrett, of the Clackaplained what the organization does in the County and asking for support for Measure 3 - 221 (a permanent rate limit of 5 cents per $1000.00 of assessed value that would cost a homeowner of a $200,000.00 home $10.00 per year) to help fund the organization.

There was a video presentation for the organization

The Directors, including the Chair, Bill Merchant, who were elected at the June Town Hall meetings at the Beavercreek Elementary School, determined who would hold the various offices, they are:

Norm Andreen, Vice-Chair Joan Martinez, Secretary Tammy Stevens, Treasurer William Bender, Registrar Elisabeth Graser-Lindsey, Speaker/Corresponding Secretary

and Joe Keicher

The following items were also suggested as possible committes that the Hamlet might like to form:

Rules & Bylaws Nominating

Finance

Identity/PR/Advertising

Agenda

Urban Growth Boundary/Legislative

Various land use actions before the board were discussed and voted on.

Being the first Hamlet in the State is a big responsibility as we are setting a standard for those who will follow. It is imperative that the residents of Beavercreek take part in and make their feelings known on the issues that will come before us.

This was demonstrated at the September meeting when it became known that neighbors within 500 feet of a proposed "Home Occupation" application that came before the membership of the CPO at it's last meeting in August, had not attended the meeting even though they were notified that the item would be on the agenda and had not given any input regarding the proposed business.

Because no one came forth and the person applying for the business came to the meeting and answered the questions asked of him, the CPO approved the Home Occupation. After the fact, the neighbors called our Hamlet's new chair and were not happy about what had happened. Unfortunately, these individuals did not exercise their rights and attend the meeting to share their knowledge. Without their much needed input the CPO recommended approval.

These notices are sent out to notify adjacent property owners of pending changes so that the neighbors who might be directly impacted the most and who are the most likely to have pertinent information necessary to aid the members in making a decision can come forward and share their knowledge.

The next meeting of the Beavercreek Hamlet will be on Wednesday, October 25, 2006, at the same place and time. Please come and participate. This is your community.

For more information call the Hamlet at 503-632-8370 or email hamletofbeavercreek@gmail.com

CCC Highlights Careers in Worker-Hungry Industry

It's no secret that the nation's manufacturing work force is rapidly retiring. New jobs are added every day to the manufacturing industry. Who will fill these vital positions in the future?

Clackamas Community College (CCC), along with partners in Clackamas County and industry, will begin a year-long campaign to raise awareness of the opportunities in the manufacturing industry with its inaugural event "Why Manufacturing Matters" on Wednesday, Oct. 11 in the college's Niemeyer Center. The event is geared toward high school teachers, counselors and administrators.

"This is a chance to connect high school teachers and students with business and manufacturers," said Scott Giltz, dean of career and technical education at CCC. "There's a lot of misconception about the opportunities that are available in the manufacturing sector today."

Gone is the archaic sweatshop of days gone by. Workers in manufacturing will no longer work 30 years creating a single product. Today's manufacturing sector is fast-paced, innovative and driven by technology, Giltz said.

"The manufacturing sector spans an incredible range of fields and companies. As a result, manufacturing employees find themselves immune to typical economic cycles," he added.

CCC is working with partners that include area manufacturers, Clackamas County, the Portland Development Commission and the Manufacturing 21 Coalition in a year-long series of events throughout the metro area.

In addition to the Oct. 11 "Why Manufacturing Matters" event, tours of area manufacturers — dubbed the "Manufacturing Road Trip" — are planned. The year culminates with the 2007 Metals Expo at the Oregon Convention Center, bringing local companies and students together to explore career opportunities and qualifications desired by employers.

"Why Manufacturing Matters" includes a field trip to Benchmade Knife Company in Oregon City, presentations and discussions by business and manufacturing leaders, and the support of area legislators. Congresswoman Darlene Hooley will speak.

This event is open to members of the public. The first portion of the day, from 10:30 to 12:30, is geared toward educators, while the afternoon program from 12:30 to 3:30 at the Niemeyer Center will include business and community leaders. A reception follows at 3:30 p.m.

For information, please contact Cindy Hagen with Clackamas County Business and Community Services at 503-353-4328 or cindyhag@co.clackamas.or.us or Janet Paulson at CCC, 503-657-6958, ext. 2307 or jpaulson@clackamas.edu.

Clackamas County Wins National Award for Community Wildfire Protection Plan

Clackamas County has received a National Association of Counties Achievement Award for its Community Wildfire Protection Plan. The plan was adopted by the Clackamas County Board of Commissioners in October of 2005.

United by a common goal to improve public safety and protect forests from fire, Clackamas County, fire districts, citizen groups, state, federal, county natural resource agencies and other stakeholders joined forces to create and implement the plan.

The Wildfire Planning Executive Committee developed the plan as a tool to increase public participation, education and outreach, enhance emergency operations and reduce structural ignitability (potential to catch fire.) The plan also helps identify fuels reduction and biomass utilization opportunities and includes a robust wildfire risk assessment.

The plan is a non-regulatory document that meets the Healthy Forest Restoration Act, National Fire Plan and Pre-Disaster Mitigation criteria for community wildfire protection plans.

"Recognition from the National Association of Oregon Counties validates the efforts made by the county, partnering agencies and residents to actively reduce wildfire hazards in their communities," said Clackamas County Commissioner Larry Sowa. "We hope this will encourage fire districts to develop local community wildfire protection plans."

Seasoned Adult Program Offerings Range from Wall Street to the Galaxies

Fall term sessions in the Seasoned Adult Education Program (SAEP) will offer tips for recognizing scams and frauds, explore plant life in Russia and hear first-hand accounts of the work of a 9-1-1 operator. Fall term sessions begin Wednesday, Oct. 4, and continue Wednesdays through Nov. 15, at 9:30 a.m., in Room 191 at Clackamas Community College's Harmony campus near Clackamas Town Center.

The Seasoned Adult Enrichment Program (SAEP) is in its 13th year at the college. The program provides seniors in Clackamas County with an educational experience designed and administered by "seasoned adults" (retirees or seniors).

The spring term schedule follows:

Oct. 4 - Frauds and Scams.

Eric Kleinman, investor coordinator with the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services, will speak about the new State Investor Information Program. A no-host luncheon follows at the Spaghetti Factory at noon.

Oct. 11 - Plant Exploring in the Former USSR.

Nursery owner Jim Gilbert shares slides and discusses his many trips to Russia and other parts of the world in search of unusual fruit-bearing trees.

Oct. 18 - November Ballot Measures.

Members will discuss the ballot measures on the ballot in November.

Oct. 25 - SAEP Field Trip.

Location to be determined.

Nov. 1 - The Universe Around Us.

Physicist Duane Ray discusses the galaxies, nebula and planets that make up the universe and our place in it

Nov. 8 - Adventures of a 9-1-1- Operator.

Mardi Epps will share tales of her 29 years as a 9-1-1 operator for the city of Portland.

Nov. 15 - Hetty Green — Witch of Wall Street.

Kay Sellwood gives a presentation on Hetty Green the richest woman in America at the beginning of the 20th century.

Sunday, Nov. 12 and 19 - CCC Theater Production "Romeo and Juliet."

David Smith-English directs the fall production in CCC's Osterman Theatre in the Niemeyer Center. Tickets for the 2:30 p.m. performance are $8. Reservations may be made by calling 503-657-6958, ext. 2356.

The annual membership for the Seasoned Adult Enrichment Program is $30 or $15 per term. A $3 fee is charged for single sessions.

The Harmony Center is located at 7616 S.E. Harmony Road. For more information about SAEP programs, contact June Routson at 503-786-3856.

Fall Term Horticulture Offerings at CCC

What Are They Doing on I-205?

If you travel I-205 on a daily basis as I do in order to get to work you may have watched and tried to figure out what those guys are doing along the roadway!

Well, my curiosity got the best of me and I had to call the Oregon Department of Transportation, ODOT for short, and find out.

I talked with Judy Shioshi and got the info I wanted.

I-205 has gotten pretty rutted over the years and anyone who drives it knows how noisy the roadway is. ODOT is redoing the roadway and doing upgrades of signage, gaurdrails, etc to meet current requirements. This is phase III, the stretch between the Oregon City Bridge and I-5.

Phase I was from the Oregon City Bridge to S.E.

Harold St., near Powell. Phase II was from Powell to the Columbia River.

It was determined that in order to facilitate the volume of traffic that goes through this corridor on a daily basis ODOT would need to shift traffic. In order to accomplish this they are building auxiliary lanes on both sides of I-205 between I-5 and Stafford Road.

It was decided since they had to build the auxiliary lanes for the construction that they would build them to standard so that they will remain after the project is done. Hopefully this will traffic to flow better on this end of the freeway.

For more information go to the Oregon Department of Transportation website at www.oregon.gov/ODOT/HWY/REGION1/I205/scorridor.shtml

Fewer Traffic-Related Deaths, More DUII Arrests Noted During Labor Day Holiday Period

Preliminary statistics indicate Oregon State Police troopers arrested more intoxicated drivers and there were fewer traffic-related deaths on Oregon highways during the 2006 Labor Day holiday in comparison to last year.

Between 6:00 p.m., September 1st, and midnight, September 4th, preliminary information provided by ODOT's Crash Analysis and Reporting Section reflect six people died in six separate fatal traffic crashes on Oregon highways. Last year, ten people died in nine separate traffic crashes. On average since 1970, over 7 traffic-related deaths have occurred each year during the Labor Day holiday weekend.

This year, Oregon State Police participated in a first-of-its-kind traffic safety partnership with state and provincial police agencies along the entire West Coast of the U.S. and Canada with one goal in mind: enforcing traffic safety laws to save lives. The "Mountain Pacific States Safety Initiative" involved Alaska Department of Public Safety, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Washington State Patrol, Oregon State Police, California Highway Patrol, and Arizona Department of Public Safety.

"Our hope every major holiday period, as well as every day, is that there would be no traffic fatalities or serious injuries on any roads in Oregon," said OSP Superintendent Ronald C. Ruecker. "We worked hard with our partner law enforcement agencies in Oregon and along the West Coast. We especially appreciate the help of many citizens who reported dangerous or intoxicated drivers, as well as those who stopped to assist others who may have been involved in a traffic crash or broke down along the highway. We know we still have a lot of work ahead of us each day to minimize the tragedies that are happening on our highways."

Preliminary enforcement statistics involving Oregon State Police troopers during the holiday period show 79 people were arrested for DUII. Last year, there were 62 DUII arrests. In addition to the increased intoxicated driver arrests, OSP troopers issued nearly 1,500 speed-related citations, about 200 safety restraint-related citations and warnings, and assisted 570 disabled motorists.

Get Ready to SPLASH! At Ten o'Clock Church

Get ready to SPLASH!

On November 12, 2006, we will begin to SPLASH! This will be our local church kickoff for the 50th year United Church of Christ denominational celebration. The service will be a "not to be missed" event! And there will be an all church potluck to follow. Bring the family! Bring your friends!

Come celebrate the United Church of Christ and it's 50 year denominational journey, supported by 300 years of history!

Love to you all! See you in church! Pastor Bunny

See you next month...
