horses. They are a Quarter-Appaloosa mix and they are 18; a gelding and a mare. They were raised by the man since they were born and have never been ridden or broke. These are essentially pasture horses.

The father needs to be moved in the next 2-3 weeks. The family does not want to put the horses down. They are actively working to see if they can find someone who would be willing to take the horses so that they go to a good home. I am working with the daughter and a rescue mission; but, it's better to have as many pokers in the fire given the time constrains. The father will not leave the property until he knows that the horses have been placed. You can appreciate the situation this creates for the daughter.

Perhaps you know of a group, like 4H or another that would be able to help. Please pass on my name and number; Dale Bowman 503-860-9733. Please ask the folks who might be able to help call.

Thank you!

Dale

Editor's Note: I received this on August 21, 2010. Call Dale to get update if interested.

Interested In Scouting?

Dear Reader:

Boy Scout Troop 139 would love to have kids from 11-17 to join us. We learn how survive in the wilderness, make fires and have fun all year round. We help kids get to Eagle rank, a much respected achievement.

Each year we have made a structure such as a trebuchet out of wood poles and rope for tournaments where many troops come to compete; we have placed 1st many times.

We also go to summer camp each year and earn our badges.

We meet on Monday at the Beavercreek Grange at 7:00 p. m., once school begins.

Burning Ban

Effective immediately, Clackamas Fire District #1, along with the Clackamas District Fire Defense Board, will be moving to a total burn ban. All fire station signs will read "Red", indicating that the fire danger level is extreme.

The imposed burn ban is being employed due to high temperature's, low humidity, and moderate to strong east winds. The above mentioned burn ban will be in effect until further notice.

Please use extreme caution when extinguishing cigarettes, as even the smallest ignitions source can cause a grass or forest fire.

School Zone Driving

September means children will be back to school soon.

For the past few months, our routes have taken us through these areas without worrying about children or lowering our driving speed.

This is a reminder that come September 7, 2010, those flashing yellow lights or signs stating "20 MPH during School hours 7am to 5pm" will be enforced. In Oregon, the minimum fine for these areas is approximately $400.

Buses will be out transporting students to and from school as well. Remember you must stop for all buses when they have the red/amber flashing lights on.

Best Practices for School Zones

Follow all posted speed signs

Be aware of surroundings at all times and eliminate distractions

Find alternate routes if possible

Stop at all crosswalks marked and unmarked as pedestrians have the right of way.

Stop for all buses with red flashing lights

Oregon Receives Another Round Of Foreclosure Prevention Assistance

The U.S. Treasury has announced that Oregon will receive another $50 million in "Hardest Hit" funds for foreclosure prevention activities. This additional funding will be dedicated to helping unemployed homeowners maintain homeownership with mortgage payment assistance while they seek re-employment.

Seventeen states and the District of Columbia were chosen to receive the new round of funds because their unemployment rates exceeded the national average for the last 12 months. Of the seventeen states, nine, including Oregon, received first or second round Hardest Hit funding.

Because the Oregon Homeownership Stabilization Initiative (OHSI) -- four programs to implement the disbursement of $88 million has already been approved, the State has a mechanism in place to manage these additional resources.

"There are many homeowners in Oregon who need a little help to keep their homes," said OHSI Administrator Michael Kaplan. "Although we wish our State didn't need this funding, we deeply appreciate U.S. Treasury's continued recognition of our challenges and look forward to helping even more homeowners."

OHSI expects to begin implementing programs by the end of the year. For program details and proposal, see: <http://www.oregonhomeownerhelp.org/>.

The Hopkins Demonstration Forest was a gift to the community by Margaret Hopkins in memory of her late husband, Howard in 1990. Forests Forever, Inc. was established earlier that year to accept the gift and to help make Margaret's dream come true.

The Hopkins family owned their 120-acre Grouse Hollow Tree Farm for nearly 30 years and practiced sustainable family forest management on the property. Margaret's desire was to see this land become an education forest for the benefit of the community.

Ken Everett, Forests Forever's Executive Director and founding Board Member, said, "The Hopkins Demonstration Forest is a unique place. We host more than 4,000 visitors each year. We really appreciate the community's interest and support that helps us be successful.

We are proud of what we have accomplished and the legacy that lives on in the Hopkins family's memory."

Funds Still Available To Help Qualified Homeowners Replace Appliances

Funds are still available to help low-income Oregon homeowners replace old appliances, according to Oregon Housing and Community Services, the State agency that runs the Appliance Rebate Program. The agency expects to distribute approximately 2,000 vouchers to qualified homeowners on a first-come, first-served basis, until they run out.

"Although funding is limited, there is still time to take advantage of the State Appliance Rebate Program," said Melissa Torgerson, Energy Policy and Programs Coordinator at Oregon Housing and Community Services. "This is an excellent opportunity for Oregon homeowners to replace older appliances with more energy efficient alternatives."

Oregonians who own their own homes and earn less than 60 percent of the state's median income may qualify. Residents are urged to apply soon for vouchers before they run out.

Earlier this year, OHCS began providing eligible low-income Oregon homeowners with a 70 percent reimbursement (up to $2,000) for ENERGY STAR heat pumps and furnaces purchased on or after January 1, 2010.

On July 1, 2010, the appliance program expanded to include ENERGY STAR water heaters, refrigerators, dishwashers and clothes washers.

Homeowners who meet the income requirements and qualify for a voucher must purchase and pay for eligible ENERGY STAR appliances using a certified contractor. They then redeem the vouchers for 70 percent of the purchase price, up to a specified maximum. Old appliances must be legally recycled in order to receive rebate funds.

For more information, see www.ohcs.state.or, call 1-800-453-5511 (option 2, selection 4) or e-mail appliancerebate@hcs.state.or.us. Oregonians can also obtain applications online at www.oregon.gov/ohcs.

Vector Report For August 26

The number of adult mosquitoes found in the traps this week has stayed about the same. The vector species are being monitored by re-trapping in the identified areas. West Nile tests were performed on each vector species from each trap site. All tests have been negative.

The number of larval mosquitoes collected has decreased for both the non-vector and vector species.

Please empty weekly all containers filled with water; i. e., outside water dishes for your pets, tires, plant saucers, plastic lids.

Our treatment goal is to reduce the number of larval mosquitoes which reach the adult stage. When there are high numbers of mosquitoes in an area, only these selected areas will be treated.

We have not had any bird calls this week. We have not tested any birds this season.

Tip of the Week:

Hooked on Fishing? Don't be the bait – put repellent in your tackle box and save the biting for the fish.

Honor And Remember Day Flags To Be Presented To Families Of The Fallen

After losing his son to the Iraq war, George Lutz wanted to do something that would honor and remember not only his son, but also all of America's fallen warriors. Lutz created the Honor and Remember Flag and has been traveling the nation encouraging states to officially adopt the flag.

Lutz was in Salem on August 24 to present Oregon's Honor and Remember Flag at the Afghan-Iraq Freedom Memorial on the grounds of the Oregon Department of Veterans' Affairs, 700 Summer St. N.E.

Lutz said in America's 234-year history there has never been an official national symbol that recognizes in gratitude and respect the ultimate sacrifice made by members of the United States military in service to our nation.

"My heart aches for each family as I am able to touch lives in this most special and unique way. I do not think that the general public quite understands the enormity of what this flag and its symbolism means to so many," he said.

"It is only when one experiences the event and speaks to the families that the importance and significance unfolds."

The Sandy River Water Trail, the State's eighth designated recreational water route, has been introduced on the web and officially traced in a 12-page, color guidebook. The printed version is available by calling Oregon's State Park Information Center at 1-800-551-6949. Web visitors can see the guide at www.sandywatertrail.org.

A water trail is a stretch of river mapped as a recreation route for canoeists and kayakers. Signs along a designated river segment identify public lands that paddlers can use as put-in and take-out points. Guides include maps showing these access and departure locations along with information about the times and distances separating them.

Cooperatively produced by the City of Sandy, the Bureau of Land Management and the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD), the Sandy River Guide's Maps trace the waterway from the Columbia River to the confluence of the Sandy and Salmon rivers near Brightwood. Amenity and access information, and descriptions of seven public parks along the route, accompany the maps.

Local officials expect the river's new water trail guide to help reduce trespassing on private property and promote boating safety. The guide also suggests six one-day float excursions with information about the skill levels (beginner, intermediate and advanced) needed to safely experience each trip.

A list of Oregon's water trails, including the new Sandy River trail, is posted on OPRD's website: www.oregon.gov/OPRD/PARKS/BIKE/other_recreation.shtml.

Clackamas County To Dead-end 162nd Ave Just South Of Rock Creek Blvd

Effective Tuesday, Aug. 31, Happy Valley and Clackamas County will permanently dead-end 162nd Avenue just south of Rock Creek Boulevard to all automobile traffic.

The removal of access to Rock Creek Boulevard will still allow property owners on 162nd Avenue south of Rock Creek Boulevard to access Highway 212 directly, but not to access Rock Creek Boulevard. Traffic on 162nd Avenue north of Rock Creek Boulevard will be able to access Highway 212 by taking Rock Creek Boulevard to 172nd.

While 172nd Avenue was under construction, 162nd Avenue was an important detour route, but with 172nd scheduled to open to the public by the end of August, the 162nd detour will no longer be needed.

Clackamas County Traffic Engineer Rick Nys says there are also safety reasons for closing the south segment of 162nd Avenue.

"Eastbound traffic on Highway 212 is held up by people trying to make a left turn on to 162nd," he said, "and it is also difficult for southbound drivers on 162nd to turn left onto Highway 212. Safer turns can be made at the Highway 212/172nd Avenue intersection."

Area residents are receiving notification by mail and service providers, such as emergency services and the school district, are being contacted by County staff.

More Blood Donors Needed Now

The local American Red Cross is experiencing low appointment bookings and turnout for blood donations. The Red Cross is asking all eligible donors to take time out of their busy schedules to roll up their sleeves and give blood as soon as possible. School is out, last minute family vacations are in full swing, and this has left the region with a substantial gap to fill. "We are having a really tough time even reaching people to schedule their appointments," says Tim Lippert, donor resources manager. "If someone is thinking about making an appointment, they can give us a call, and we'll be happy to find a location that is convenient for them."

The region typically schedules about 1,000 appointments each weekday to meet patient needs.

"To the 8 out of 10 scheduled donors who are able to keep their scheduled appointments, I say a heart-felt 'thank you'. But hospital patients in Oregon and Washington still need those additional donors. The blood must be available when and where its needed," says Steve Stegeman, regional chief executive officer. "Blood donation only takes about one hour and we are confident that residents in Oregon and Washington will answer this much needed call to

How will we celebrate this accomplishment? How else? Building fences in Salem & Longview!

Fence Recipients:

Lucy, a 4-year-old pit-bull, and Taz, a 14-year-old Shepherd mix, are chained twenty-four hours a day. Both Lucy, an energetic girl frustrated and painfully hindered by her chain, and Taz, a sweet ole gentleman who regularly gets tangled far out of reach from his food, water & shelter, have waited long enough for their day in the warm sunshine. (Longview)

Rocky, a friendly and playful 1-year-old pit-bull is chained twenty-four hours a day. Rocky's family moved him outside when he outgrew his puppy stage, but they are willing to work on his house manners so he can hopefully rejoin the family indoors. Meanwhile, our volunteers will fence in Rocky's yard and free him from the chain. (Salem)

Seasonal Road Restrictions Announced For Hunters In Tillamook State Forest

The Oregon Department of Forestry (ODF) will resume road restrictions this fall in the western part of the Tillamook State Forest to improve deer and elk escapement during hunting season.

Some roads will be closed to motorized use during general archery and rifle hunting seasons in September, October and November.

Selected roads in the Trask, Wilson and Nehalem River areas will be gated and signed. Controlled access during those three months is designed to reduce hunting pressure in these areas.

Three new areas, Sibley Arch, Hoskins Creek and Bales Creek, will be closed to motorized vehicles.

Hunters and other recreational users are welcome to access the gated areas by foot, mountain bike, horse or other non-motorized means.

ODF is partnering with the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) and the Tillamook Chapter of the Oregon Hunters Association (OHA) in this program.

Earthquake Exercise Gets Oregon Geologists Up In The Air!

It takes a lot to get a geologist to look up from the ground, let alone get him airborne, but that's what's happened the weekend of August 14-15. "The coastal hazards and landslide exercise currently underway with the Oregon Civil Air Patrol is simulating the response to a major earthquake on the Cascadia Subduction Zone, with the potential to trigger a significant tsunami on the coast and potentially widespread landslide activity in the Coast range, which would shut down major highway corridors that connect the Willamette Valley to the coast," said DOGAMI scientist Jonathan Allan.

"The Oregon Civil Air Patrol, the US Coast Guard, and DOGAMI staff, conducted aerial surveillance of the coast, along the Columbia River, Highway 20 and 34 corridors and in southern Oregon for the purposes of collecting pre-event digital imagery as baseline data to prepare for when the next event occurs," said Allan.

DOGAMI is one of the lead State agencies focused on defining and preparing for dealing with natural disasters like earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanic eruptions, landslides, and extreme storms. Post-event documentation of potential natural disasters provides DOGAMI and other scientists with valuable information about the cause and effects of such events. This type of work results in improved hazard maps and information that can be used to safe-guard the environment, people and vulnerable infrastructure, like roads, bridges, utility lines and communications.

As the official civilian, volunteer auxiliary of the USAF, the U.S. Civil Air Patrol performs over 95% of all air search and rescue missions across the country as tasked by the Air Force utilizing the world's largest fleet single engined aircraft.

CCSO Investigate Shooting Incident In Mulino And Arrest Man For Attempted Murder Of His Own Brother

On Tuesday, August 17, 2010, at 12:36 p.m. one brother discharged a semi-automatic handgun multiple times at his estranged brother who was standing outside of a residence under construction in Mulino. No injuries were reported, and the armed suspect brother of the victim was soon apprehended by Clackamas County Sheriff's Deputies a short distance from the scene without incident.

Sheriff's Office Deputies investigating this shooting incident report Timothy Bilyeu had placed some personal effects belonging to his brother John Bilyeu, at the end of this residential driveway located at 25481 S Newkirchner Road, in Mulino.

John Bilyeu is described to have arrived at this residence to collect his property while in operation of his 1994, Ford, F-250, gray colored pick-up truck.

Upon arrival, the personal items situated at the end of the driveway were collected and John Bilyeu approached the residence along the driveway of this property that is under construction. As John Bilyeu approached the residence, he was greeted by his brother Timothy Bilyeu in the driveway.

Investigators reveal a verbal exchange between the two brothers erupted over the topic of money, and it is believed John Bilyeu presented a handgun then discharged multiple rounds in an effort to hit the intended target, his brother, Tim Bilyeu.

Miraculously, Tim Bilyeu escaped injury as he moved quickly and assumed cover behind a large backhoe readily available for his defense. Tim Bilyeu reports 'dancing around' this piece of machinery while attempting to avoid being struck by the rounds being discharged by his brother.

John Bilyeu missed his intended target and jumped into his pick-up truck intending to flee the area. Responding Clackamas County Deputy Sheriff's came upon the suspect and his pick-up truck moments after -- from what it appears he became stuck just off the roadway while attempting to turn around on this narrow roadway. The suspect and suspect vehicle were located an estimated quarter-mile from the victim residence on South Buckner Creek Road.

This suspect was arrested at gunpoint, without incident, by Sheriff's Deputies. A handgun was later recovered by investigating Deputies from this vehicle and retained as evidence.

It is also reported the victim identified as Timothy Lee Bilyeu, age 43, lives at this rural residential address of 25481 S Newkirchner Road, in Mulino. Deputies also report Timothy Bilyeu resides at this address with this fiancé and her three minor children on this property. It was discovered the fiancé and children were on the property at the time of the incident, but were not injured during this event. The wedding for this couple is expected to be performed this coming Saturday.

Oregon's Timber Harvest In 2009 Hits Historic Lows

A struggling economy, reflected in weak housing and non-residential construction, drove Oregon's 2009 timber harvest to historic lows. The harvest of 2.748 billion board feet is 20 percent lower than the already depressed 2008 harvest and the lowest since the Great Depression-level harvest of 2.622 billion board feet. Timber harvest information to-date for 2010 shows harvest levels slowly increasing, but a major recovery in harvests is not forecast until 2011 or beyond according to Oregon Department of Forestry economist Gary Lettman. "Oregon's forest industry infrastructure, although much reduced in recent years, remains intact," said Lettman. "There have been numerous recent temporary mill shutdowns, but few mills are being permanently shuttered."

Most of the timber harvest decline was in western Oregon, declining from 3.079 billion board feet in 2008 to 2.403 billion board feet in 2009. Even though the eastern Oregon timber harvest volume has been decreasing every year since 2005, the decline in harvest is slowing. Eastern Oregon harvest volume had dropped 45 percent from 2004-2008, but dropped only 5 percent from 2008-2009.

Douglas County jumped in front of Lane County as having the highest volume harvested during 2009, with 384 million board feet. Lane County, the top 2008 producer of timber volume, dropped 22 percent in 2009 to 338 million board feet. In western Oregon, Yamhill was the only county that harvested more timber in 2009 than in 2008, with an increase in harvest of 581 thousand board feet. Klamath County once again harvested the most timber in eastern Oregon, with a cut of 77 million board feet a 14 percent increase from 2008.

Most timber harvested in Oregon comes from forest industry landowners and those harvests declined significantly in 2009, with the change between 2008 and 2009 representing the largest change in timber harvest by ownership class. Cutting 2.583 billion board feet in 2008, the forest industry accounted for 75 percent of Oregon's total volume removed. In 2009, the forest industry's volume harvested decreased by 597 million board feet, a 23 percent drop to 1.986 billion board feet. Most of this decline occurred in western Oregon, where 2009 forest industry harvests decreased in every county. Forest industry timber harvests in eastern Oregon decreased by only 6 percent. The forest industry harvested more timber in 2009 than in 2008 in Klamath, Jefferson, Morrow, and Wasco counties.

American Tribes and the U.S. Bureau of Land Management were able to increase timber harvests in 2009," Lettman said. Tribal timber harvests increased 13 percent for 2009 to a total of 65 million board feet. The Bureau of Land Management increased harvest from 2008 by 26 percent to a total of 147 million board feet, making 2009 that agency's highest timber harvest since 1999.

Update From DOGAMI Regarding Lidar Landslide Maps

DOGAMI (Department Of Geology And Mineral Industries) is currently working on Lidar (Light Detection And Ranging) maps for Lake Oswego and the area North of Canby. Redland and Estacada maps should be ready approximately by the end of the year. There will be 4 Lidar maps for Estacada and 4 for the Redland area. Parts of the Hamlet of Beavercreek will be covered in these maps. Henrici, Leland, Steiner, Kamrath, Spangler, Lower Highland, Upper Highland and Beavercreek Roads should be part of these Lidar maps for Redland and Estacada. DOGAMI states it appears that Upper Highland may be the end of Lidar mapping for the Hamlet. Larkin, Hidden Road, and Howards Mill Road will not be covered since there is NO Lidar data for these areas South of Upper Highland. The Estacada maps will cover a lot of the area East of the Hamlet boundaries and into the City of Estacada as well as surrounding areas.

DOGAMI will give the Hamlet an update about November/December for the status of the Redland and Estacada maps. Once these maps are finalized and published, which will be about the first part of 2011, Bill Burns of DOGAMI will come to a Hamlet meeting and give a presentation on Lidar Maps, Steep Slopes and Landslides.

Bill Burns of DOGAMI will be speaking to the South End Neighborhood in Oregon City on September 16th. If you are interested in attending, please contact Christine Kosinski, Corresponding Secretary for the Hamlet of Beavercreek. Her e-mail address is britenshin@aol.com

The August meeting of the Hamlet of Beavercreek took place on Wednesday, August 25, 2010, at the Beavercreek Grange on Kamrath Road. The meeting began at 7:00 p.m.

There were no guest speakers.

The highlights of the July 28, 2010, meeting were read by Secretary, Joan Martinez.

There were no public comments.

There was one land-use issue before those present. It was

be done at the Grange.

There have been two new propane furnaces installed in the Grange. The furnaces replace an ancient oil burning furnace as well as a 5 year old one. The new furnaces have a rating of 90,000 BTUs as compared to the older ones of 80,000 BTUs and are 95% efficient. Also, new tile is being purchased to retile the floor in the dining room.

None of this would have been possible without a donation by the Beavercreek Lions in the amount of $500.00, a anonymous donation from a Lions member in the amount of $1,000.00 and the aid of Rick Krueger of Oregon City Heating as well as money raised at the first Saturday of the month breakfasts. The Lions meet at the Grange monthly.

Mr. Schettig stated that the Grange has the 5 year old furnace and the above ground oil tank for sale for $500.00 for both. See the ad elsewhere in this issue.

Bill Merchant, Chair of the Hamlet, presented Mr. Schettig with a check for $300.00 for the rental of the Grange for the Hamlet meetings. Mr Schettig stated that the money would go into the Building Fund.

The Grange is also applying for a grant through Clackamas County for other improvements that need to be done. Mr. Schettig is in negotiations with Skyles Drilling for steel pipe to be sunk into the ground to protect the furnace exhaust and the new propane tank.

The upcoming elections were discussed and those present were encouraged to nominate people to run. If you know someone you would like to nominate do so by emailing to nominations@beavercreekbulletin.org. The deadline is September 20th.

Christine Kosinski, the Hamlets Corresponding Secretary, gave a report on the new DOGAMI maps that will be coming out that cover part of our Hamlet. A more in depth report is found elsewhere in this issue.

It was announced that there would be a Korner Park Improvement Committee meeting held on Thursday, September 2nd at the home of Dee Church. Dee wished to show the prototypes for some structures for the park that he has been working on. Those interested in attending were encouraged to do so. Dee Also announced that Mike Durkin of Durkin's Nursery in Beavercreek will be donating plants for the project. Thank you Mike! You can see his nursery online at <http://mdurkin.farming.officelive.com/>

Dee Church also gave an update on the lighting of the sign for the Hamlet as you enter the core area. He needs volunteers or the use of equipment to dig the trench to get the lighting to the sign's location. Several people had ideas on how that could be addressed.

Dee Church also stated, as regards the speed zone in front of the High School, that he cannot deal with the politics in trying to address the issue. Dee has worked on this project for a very long time and it is taking forever to get anything accomplished. He feels his time can be better spent taking care of his business and family. His frustration has come to a head and he feels his days are about over.

It was mentioned that Joe Marek, County Traffic Engineer, has said that the issue is still not resolved, but that the speed zone will change.

Volunteers are needed to help out at the 4th Annual Hamlet Happening that is to be held on September 11th at Hopkins Demonstration Forest from 3-7 p.m. See page one for map.

Everyone is encouraged to attend the monthly Hamlet Community meetings and the quarterly Town Hall meetings to participate and share ideas and concerns on the issues pertinent to our community. Members 18 years of age and older who live, own a business, or property within the Hamlet area may vote on Hamlet issues. The Hamlet of Beavercreek Boundary Map is located online at http://www.beavercreekbulletin.org/Misc/Beavercreek_Hamlet_Boundary_map.pdf

The Community meetings take place on the fourth Wednesday of the month at the Beavercreek Grange on Kamrath Rd at 7:00 p.m. The Town Hall Meetings will occur every quarter. For more information, please call the Hamlet Information Line at 503-632-8370 or visit the Hamlet web site at <http://HamletOfBeavercreek.org>.
