

Korner Park Shined for the Tree Lighting Ceremony

Dozens of residents gathered at the Beavercreek Grange for the annual community potluck dinner on Dec. 3.

Pam Furlan emceed the event and several local residents competed for a trophy and bragging rights for having the ugliest holiday sweater.

The audience selected the winners including local Bebel H. and her friend.

Santa arrived to greet the kids and led everyone across the street to Korner Park for holiday music and treats. The park looked fantastic with more lights than ever and a beautifully lit tree.

You can view all photos from the event at <https://bit.ly/2BPohSi> including past events. Thanks to the Beavercreek Grange, Hamlet Parks Committee, Beavercreek Saloon, Total Landscape Care (TLC), and all the volunteers who donated time and resources to make this annual event the best one yet.

Call for Help in Saving the Old White Schoolhouse at Carus School

The old white schoolhouse at Carus School has been sold for $1 to an interested party who is working with Canby School District (SD) and is in the planning stages for moving it to its new home. Canby SD has requested permission to demolish the building if the interested party does not move the building by the end of March 2023. This discussion is continuing with the County Historic Review Board where, after two meetings Dec. 8 and Dec. 15, they voted to allow the move of the building but not the demolition. They have given a 60 day extension to review community interest and support for the building. Clackamas County Transportation & Development Planning and Zoning Division has approved this decision. A meeting of the County Historic Review Board is scheduled for January 12, 2023 via zoom at 7:00pm. You can attend this meeting following this link:
<https://www.clackamas.us/planning/viewboard.html#meetings>

You are welcome to speak during the public comment time. If you have a written statement to read, you can make this request to Joy Fields at

The building located at 14412 South Carus Road is on the list of designated historical sites for both the state and Clackamas County. It was built circa 1926 and has served the Carus area as a schoolhouse, meeting hall, community center and Sunday school for the Methodist Church over the decades, according to the Canby First newspaper.

CCC Offers Low-Cost to No-Cost Programs

Clackamas Community College is offering four programs that provide extra academic support and funding during winter term. Students can get career ready in six months or less, and may qualify for funding for tuition, fees, textbooks, transportation and more. It includes opportunities for people from diverse backgrounds to earn a certificate and/or degree in high-wage, high-demand industries at little to no cost for the students.

Participating programs include:

- Health care: Prepare for a career in health care by learning communication skills and medical terminology.
- Welding: Gain entry-level welding skills to prepare for careers in fabrication, heavy construction, ship building and equipment repair.

- CNC operator: Enter the advanced manufacturing field with a focus on skilled CNC machine tool operation.
- Irrigation technician: Learn how to design, install and maintain irrigation systems for a variety of landscapes.

For those who are new to college or returning after some time away, these programs offer extra support with dedicated staff and academic help as well as course supplies, materials and equipment.

To be eligible, applicants must identify as one or more of these communities: people of color, women, low-income, rural and frontier communities, veterans, people with disabilities, justice involved, members of Oregon's federally recognized Native American tribes, people experiencing discrimination in employment on the basis of age or members of the LGBTQ+ community.

Winter term classes start Jan. 9. For more information or to get started, contact Workforce Development at work.force@clackamas.edu or 503-594-6246.

OR 213 Roundabout at Toliver Road

Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT), in partnership with the City of Molalla, is improving safety at the intersection of Oregon 213 and Toliver Road in Molalla by constructing a roundabout. Roundabout construction is scheduled for summer 2023 with utility work beginning in the spring.

Visit ToliverRoundabout.org for more information. Questions can be sent to Katelyn Jackson, ODOT Community Affairs at Katelyn.Jackson@odot.oregon.gov or by calling 503-731-8503.

Reminder: Clackamas Fire Public Forum Jan. 4

Clackamas Fire has established an initial set of staffing and operational priorities which would be funded through the levy, including hiring additional firefighters to provide four-person staffing in most stations, full-time staffing of rural fire stations (Logan and Clarkes), and implement an alternative response model which includes lighter resources to improve response efficiency in high-volume service areas. [Editor's note: Read the November issue for more details.] It would also provide funding for equipment critical to emergency and wildfire response. Join the public forum in our area on January 4th, 6pm-7:30pm at John Adams station 15: 624 7th Street, Oregon City, OR 97045. You can also join us online by visiting www.clackamasfire.com for the link.

Help Ensure Oregon Receives Accurate Broadband Support

The Oregon Broadband Office is seeking the public's help in verifying or correcting the broadband information listed for their residence on the FCC's National Broadband Map. Knowing where broadband is available (and more importantly, where it is not) is critical to secure funding and improve broadband access for Oregon's underserved communities. The deadline to update the map and influence the broadband support Oregon receives is January 13, 2023.

Please follow the below steps to check your address and challenge the data if it shows you have better internet access than you actually do.

1. Go to FCC.gov.
2. Search for your address and review the results.
3. If the information about your home or small business is inaccurate, you can file a "challenge" (request for correction) with the FCC to have the map corrected. An accurate map is extremely important to identify those communities most in need of funding for high-speed broadband.

How to file different types of challenges:

- Availability Challenges: If the information about the internet services available at your home or other location is incorrect, you can dispute it by clicking on the Availability Challenge link on the right side of the map and submitting the form. Click here to learn how to submit an Availability Challenge.
- Mobile Challenges: If the map of mobile coverage submitted by your provider seems incorrect, you can dispute that by taking speed tests on your mobile phone with the FCC Speed Test App, available for both Android and iOS. Make sure to select the Challenge Speed Test option and to take the test while either outdoors or in a vehicle. Click here to learn how to submit a Mobile Challenge.
- Location Challenges: If the information about the location point of your home or other location seems to be incorrect, you can submit a Location Challenge to correct the information on the location. The link to do this is to the right of the address on the map. To add a location, click on the place on the map where the location should be and then click the "Challenge Location" button. Click here to learn how to submit a Location Challenge.

Workshop: Fig Trees - Winter Pruning Methods

Jan. 7, 10:30am-12:30pm

Are your figs out of reach? Join us in the HOEC Community Orchard for a hands-on workshop, where you will learn proper winter pruning techniques specifically for growing fig trees in the Pacific Northwest. Students will receive guided hands on practice that will help to build the confidence necessary to successfully prune their own fig trees. Did you know most varieties of figs produce two separate crops each year? Let us teach you how to prune for best health and production while ensuring you're not accidentally removing your spring fruiting zones.

Technology Tools For Natural Resource Management

Jan. 12, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

CCC ELC, 19600 Molalla Ave.

The use of technological tools, such as auto-samplers, low-cost drones and Geographic Information Systems (GIS), provide opportunities for effective and efficient natural resource management. However, navigating the various options to choose the tools appropriate for a given objective can be challenging and possibly even daunting. This introductory workshop will provide a basic understanding of the variety of technological tools available for monitoring, assessing and planning activities related to natural resource management. Specific applications will be presented by industry professionals who use this technology on a regular basis. Participants will walk away

Vegetated Stormwater Facilities

Jan. 25 and 26

CCC ELC, 19600 Molalla Ave.

This workshop will provide an overview of vegetated stormwater facilities (bioswales, rain gardens, etc.), how they function, management considerations and strategies for long-term viability. Participants will learn about regulatory requirements, such as recordkeeping and inspections, and how to evaluate and properly maintain the plants and other system components. The intended audience includes landscapers, regulatory inspectors and public works/stormwater maintenance personnel. The field portion of class includes practice inspecting a facility, identifying problems, recordkeeping and communication with customers. Participants can choose to take both the lecture and on-site practice, or one or the other.

The lecture is Jan. 25, 8 a.m.-4:45 p.m., at the Environmental Learning Center. The site evaluation and practice is Jan. 26, 9 a.m.-noon or 1-4 p.m. on the Clackamas Community College Oregon City campus.

The cost for all sessions is $210, $150 for just the lecture, and $60 for only the site evaluation. To register or for more information, visit www.clackamas.edu/elc/ceu or contact rharber@clackamas.edu.
