By and for residents of Beavercreek, Oregon

Community Spotlight: Dusti Akers

By Jennifer Logan

Local resident Dusti Akers moved to Beavercreek in 1983 and has lived here almost all her life except for a short time away in Bend at culinary school where she received her certification as a Pastry Chef. Upon her return she began baking cupcakes for her mother, who regularly received them with smiles and giggles. It was her mother who coined the term that Dusti now uses as her business name The Cupcake Fairy.

Dusti describes the Beavercreek area as having lush forests and beautiful lands that she often hikes and takes photos of, as well as many nice horse riding trails she has enjoyed with her horses over the years.

She loves the feel of the community here and noted that it is nice to actually know your neighbors and other locals. Dusti has many things in the works for her business. She just earned her bachelor's degree in Business and her next step is to convert her mom's old Beavercreek beauty shop Kay's Country Curl into a commercial kitchen rather than a cottage kitchen. What that means is more and bigger bakes!

Dusti's life motto is "Sprinkling kindness across the land, one cupcake at a time." Her dream is to offer a variety of sweet treats to everyone, no matter what dietary restrictions they may have. Currently The Cupcake Fairy bakes everything from three-tiered wedding cakes to mini-cupcakes and is always up for a new baking challenge. Another neat thing about her business - she hand delivers orders to Beavercreek residents!

Visit Dusti's Facebook and Instagram pages and see what you'd like to have at your next celebration, or contact her directly to order at 971-221-3402 or dustithcupcakefairy@gmail.com.

February Hamlet Meeting

The February meeting was canceled due to snow and icy conditions. It will resume on Wednesday, March 22. See <https://beavercreek.org/> for updates.

FBI Teen Academy Accepting Applications

The FBI Teen Academy program provides an opportunity for rising high school juniors and seniors to learn about careers in law enforcement within the FBI and beyond. Applicants chosen for the program actively engage with FBI agents and leaders in the Bureau to learn about case studies, crime prevention, evidence gathering, and investigative techniques related to criminal activity. The Teen Academy allows students to delve deeply into levels of law enforcement unavailable to them in a general classroom setting.

Students will learn about how criminals are captured, hear from FBI agents about actual cases, and learn how to raise their self-awareness online and watch for cyber-predators. Graduates of the Teen Academy program develop a keen understanding of how the FBI interacts with local law enforcement agencies and how participants can raise crime prevention awareness in their communities. In addition, hands-on instruction by FBI experts and other law enforcement agents allows students to understand the importance of communication between national and local agencies.

FBI Teen Academy members engage in group activities ranging from small group exercises to hands-on simulations. Participation is free to the applicants chosen, and volunteer organizations provide supplies for the events. As a result, students learn valuable life skills and increase their knowledge and understanding of how law enforcement agencies interact around the country.

FBI Portland is currently accepting applications for its 2023 Teen Academy. The session will take place July 11, 2023 to July 14, 2023. View and download 2023 Teen Academy application. Submit your application to outreach.pd@fbi.gov by Friday, April 14, 2023.

Oregon State Fire Marshal is Accepting Nominations for the 2023 Sparky Awards

The Oregon Office of State Fire Marshal is accepting nominations for the 2023 Golden and Silver Sparky Awards. These awards honor and recognize people for their outstanding achievements in fire prevention and safety education. The Golden Sparky acknowledges a member of the Oregon fire service, and the Silver Sparky recognizes a member of the public.

“We know Oregonians are doing great work around fire prevention and safety in their communities. This is a great opportunity to honor their achievements,” Oregon State Fire Marshal Mariana Ruiz-Temple said. “Past recipients were instrumental in creating fire adapted communities, leading smoke alarm installations at the neighborhood level, and advocating for fire safety through creative campaigns.”

The nomination deadline is April 3. Include an explanation and examples of your nominee’s contributions to preventing fires and fire losses in Oregon. Anyone can submit a nomination; you do not have to be a fire service member to nominate someone. Nomination forms can be found on the OSFM’s website.

Please email nominations to OSFM.PublicAffairs@osp.oregon.gov or mail them to OSFM Public Affairs, 3565 Trelstad Ave. SE, Salem, OR, 97317.

See you next month!

Local Events

Desert Waterlines Art Exhibit

March 1-13, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.
Niemeyer Center, 19600 Molalla Ave.

The Clackamas Community College Alexander Gallery presents "Desert Waterlines," a solo exhibition of work by Portland-based artist Clairissa Stephens. It is a mixed media exhibition exploring water as an essential and defining characteristic of the landscape. The exhibition includes installation and drawings inspired by Stephens' time in the wilderness utilizing maps, research of weather patterns, and horizon lines to create works that explore a sense of wonder and place in relationship to the landscape.

Stephens holds a Master of Fine Art in Interdisciplinary Studio Art from the University of Nevada in Reno. In addition to showing regionally, her work has been internationally recognized and supported by the Samband Íslenskra Myndlistarmanna Residency Program of Iceland and the Art in Embassies Program in Saudi Arabia. www.clackamas.edu/art.

CCC Virtual Wildlife & Garden Classes March 2 & March 9

The Clackamas Community College Environmental Learning Center is hosting free weekly wildlife and water-friendly garden workshops. Workshops will be held virtually Thursdays, Jan. 26-March 9, noon-1 p.m. Sign up for one or more of the workshops at <https://bit.ly/ELCgardenseries>.

March 2, Ways that we impact watersheds in our garden decisions

The choices people make in taking care of yards not only affects the long-term health and beauty of gardens, but also the health of the water supply. Learn why and how to be good environmental stewards through soil care practices, storm water management, water conservation, non-chemical fertilizer alternatives and best practices for pest management.

March 9, Garden design considerations for managing stormwater and erosion

Sloping lawns and rivers of run-off can wreak havoc in yards. Learn how to manage storm water and erosion from an expert known for earth-friendly, water-wise designs.

For questions, email elcatccc@clackamas.edu. The workshop series is sponsored by Clackamas County Water Environment Services and in partnership with Clackamas River Basin Council, Clackamas River Water Providers, Oak Lodge Water Services and North Clackamas Watersheds Council.

CCC Spring Break Camps for Kids

Full day: March 27 or March 29, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.
Half day: March 30, 9 a.m.-noon

Camps: This spring break, the Clackamas Community College Environmental Learning Center is offering a range of opportunities for children ages 5-8 to explore the renewal and rebirth of nature in spring. Camp activities include nature-based games, building a bird's nest, planting scarlet runner beans, a scavenger hunt and take-home activities like books and a baby animal card game. Dress for the weather, as many camp activities will be outside, exploring and playing around the wetland. Full-day camps are $130, which includes two Nature Spy Explorer Kits: Spring Into Nature and Bug Safari ($85 value). The half day camp is $60 and includes the Spring Into Nature Explorer Kit ($50 value).

Nature Spy Explorer Kits: Keep children busy during spring break with Nature Spy Explorer Kits. The kits are mailed to your door and have all the supplies children need to learn, create and play. Engaging crafts, fun facts and playful activities will help them discover the natural world that surrounds them – from the comfort of home and neighborhood. There are two kits to choose from: Spring Into Nature ($50) and Bug Safari ($35). A limited number of scholarships are available to families with a demonstrated need.

To register for camp or to order a Nature Spy Explorer Kit, visit <https://tinyurl.com/2m8y4ps>. For questions, contact Sarah Bidwell at sarah.bidwell@clackamas.edu.
